Aggie tracksters limp to LSU meet

The A&M track squad limps into Baton Rouge for a dual meet against LSU Saturday, hoping not to injure anyone else before the big relay meets this month.

The Aggie sprint corps is hit the hardest with the top three sprinters nursing injuries of some sort. Sammy Dierschke strained a groin muscle in the College Station Relays two weeks ago but is expected to get back into action against the Tigers. What action he does see, however, will probably be confined to only running a leg of the mile relay to test himself before entering the more rigorous sprints.

Charles Dawson, 1974 100-yard dash champion at the Border Olympics, tugged a hamstring last week and had to pull out of the 100 in the Dallas Invitational. Although still slightly sore, he is expected to compete Saturday. As if two successive weekends of injury to sprinters weren't enough, 440-yard relay team lead-off man Gerald D'Ambrosio injured a hamstring this week during practice and is looking at LSU on a wait-and-see basis. 880-yard runners Horace Grant and Ron McGonigle are both recovering from injuries and will compete in the 880 together for the first time this season. Grant finished second in the SWC indoor 600-yard run but injured his back at the early part of the outdoor season. McGonigle ran an impressive 880 in the Astrodome but ruptured some blood vessels in his leg in the process.

Also competing for the Aggies, by event:
Long jump—Tom Owen, Shif-ton Baker.
High jump—Phil McGuire, Don Riggs, David Frazier
Pole vault—David Peterek, Brad Blair

Netters win, hit the road

The A&M tennis team, revitalized with a lineup shift, knocked off a strong North Texas State team yesterday, 7-2, and bounced back to winning form.

The Aggies mastered five of the six singles matches and two of three doubles en route to the victory.

In the first match Bill Wright defeated Mark Floyd on NTSU 6-3, 6-4.

Senior Dan Courson beat the Meangreen's Mark Walker, 6-3, 6-4, to up his season record to 13-3.

Mark Silberman, the highest ranked of the shifted players, defeated Blake Avers, 6-4, 6-3.

Tom Courson, playing No. 4 instead of his former seventh spot, knocked off NTSU's Jim Johnston, 6-2, 6-3.

Kermit Smith was re-activated for the match and has been waiting out an injured leg. Jerry Garcia of NTSU broke serve to take a 6-4 win in the first set. Smith came back very strong to whip Garcia, 6-1, in the second set but could not hold on in the third as Garcia prevailed 6-4.

Scoter McMeans took two straight tie-breakers to defeat George Villanueva in the sixth match.

In the top doubles match Dan Courson and Silberman teamed to down Floyd and Garcia in split sets, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Wright and Smith defeated Walker and Avers, 6-3, 6-3 in the second match.

Tom Courson and McMeans took the first set 6-2 over Johnston and Villanueva, but the NTSU pair stormed back to the final two sets and the only NTSU doubles win, 6-2, 6-2.

The Ags played Southwestern Louisiana this morning before leaving for matches at Oklahoma Saturday, Oklahoma City Sunday and SMU Tuesday.

There's no easy way for Charlie Nelson to become Dr. Nelson.

But there is a way to make it somewhat easier. Our way. The Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program. It won't soften the demands of your professors, or those you make upon yourself—but it may free you from those financial problems which, understandably, can put a crimp in your concentration.

If you qualify, our scholarship program will cover the costs of your medical education. More, you'll receive a good monthly allowance all through your schooling.

But what happens after you graduate? Then, as a health care officer in the military branch of your choice you enter a professional environment that is challenging, stimulating and satisfying.

An environment which keeps you in contact with practically all medical specialties. Which gives you the time to observe and learn before you decide on your specialty. Which may present the opportunity to train in that specialty. And to practice it.

You may also find some of the most advanced medical achievements happening right where you work. Like at the Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas, long noted for its Burn Treatment Center. Or the home of Flight Medicine, the famed Aerospace Medical Division, also in San Antonio. Or the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland, recognized worldwide for its work in Medical Research.

And if you've read this far, you may be interested in the details. Just send in the coupon and we'll supply them.

HEAD COACH EMORY BELLARD makes a point as he instructs A&M's spring trainees on the finer points of football. The gridders hold their first scrimmage Saturday at 4 p.m. (Photo by Steve Ueckert)

Grid scrimmage set for Saturday

The A&M football squad rests today in preparation for their first scrimmage of spring Saturday.

Scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m., the scrimmage gives fans the first chance to get a look at the gridders that will form the core of the 1974 football team. It also affords head coach Emory Bellard his first opportunity to make a qualified judgement on the condition of next year's squad, a privilege he has not enjoyed at A&M as freshmen have always played a bigger part in the fall than they are expected to next year.

The starting units remain relatively the same as they finished last year with only minor changes.

Speedy Carl Roaches is still listed as No. 1 wide receiver but the flash from Houston Smiley is seeing additional duty at running back, a position he has not occupied since high school.

While Roaches is at running back, his split end position will be occupied by sophomore Mike Floyd.

1973 Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Year Ed Simonini is recovering from injuries suffered in a non-contact accident earlier this season. Although he feels he is ready to play, the Aggie coaches are taking no chances at further injury and his status remains undetermined.
