A CORPSMAN looks the other way as blood is drained from his arm in the 1974 Spring Aggie Blood Drive, (upper left.) The drive is sponsored by Wadley Blood Bank of Dallas with local aid provided by Student Government and Alpha Phi Omega. A turnout of nearly 300 during Wednesday's session fell short of the halfway mark for the expected 1,000 pints, said blood drive chairman Mike Ballew. A coed (upper right) is helped to the recovery area by an APO volunteer. The recovery table is stocked with crackers and orange juice to prevent a donor from fainting (lower left.) Unused blood gathering equipment (lower right), looking more like a bed of snakes, await forthcoming donors. (Photos by Steve Ueckert)
