Expert won't dispute verdict

NEW YORK - NBC News reported on Tuesday that a tape expert hired by the White House will not dispute the verdict of a court-appointed team of experts on an 181/2-minute gap in a crucial Watergate tape.

NBC's Carl Stern reported that the White House expert, Dr. Michael Hecker of the Stanford Institute in California, may disagree with the other experts on some technical procedures but not on their conclusion.

Stern said Hecher "expects to testify whether it helps or hurts the President, and it now looks as though it will hurt."

A panel of six experts chosen mutually by the White House and the special prosecutor reported to U. S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica that the tape underwent "the process of editing and rerecording at least five and perhaps as many as nine separate and contiguous segments."

Their report did not address itself to whether the erasure was deliberate or accidental, but said:
