Foreigners need working permits

Foreign students seeking summer employment will have to obtain permission from the Immigration and Naturalization Service rather than from school officials, announced Immigration Commissioner Leonard Chapman.

The decision to withhold authority from school officials to act on foreign student requests for summer work permission was intended to protect summer job opportunities for American youth, including Vietnam veterans and members of minority groups.

Chapman also said that the Department of State was consulted by the Immigration and Naturalization Service prior to the decision to limit foreign student employment Expressed the view that there is an important foreign policy benefit to the United States from the presence of young foreigners studying in this country who later take home with them not only academic knowledge gained here, but also greater knowledge of this country. Foreign students in need of employment, however, may continue to apply to the Service for work permission at any time.

"In balancing the labor market impact against the foreign relations aspects, I have concluded that protection of job opportunities for young Americans, including minority youth and Vietnam veterans, is the paramount consideration at this time," he concluded.

"Now I understand there's a 'verbal memo' out to have no more written memos," Hardee added.

In discussing his opponents, Hardee said they both had conceded the student vote to him. "In this concession they said the student vote was unimportant because they claim the students won't vote. I have greater confidence in that fightin' Aggie spirit and the young adults of A&M."

"I have supported students; I have a close relationship with many of them, regardless of my opponents' attitudes. The student community is young, vital, concerned and active. I understand the frustration they feel with their present elected officials." Hardee runs Sparkey's Pizza Parlor in College Station. He said he has been in real estate and insurance ventures as well as his oil industry work.

"An A&M student should damn well be appointed to the TAMU System Board of Directors," Hardee said. "Who is more qualified than a student who pays fees and taxes? Most students are better qualified than some of the people on the Board now."

"There's nothing personal about my campaign. I'm just trying to get principles and voting records out in the open. I'm not a politician. I'm a man for the people. Sparkey Hardee cares enough to give you alternatives on all issues."

Joyce and Prenal deny that they have conceded the student vote and they deny saying it is unimportant.—Ed.

Nixon lawyer

(Continued from page 1) cific participation at any point in the impeachment proceedings would be made by Chairman Rodino and he could be overruled by majority vote of the committee.

The amendment by Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., for live coverage of any impeachment proceeding open to the public was quickly approved with little debate.

But Rodino said staff presentation of an initial summary of possible impeachment evidence to the committee next week will not be open to the public.

He refused to speculate on how soon expanded evidence presentation meetings in the following weeks will become open.

Presidential counselor Dean Burch told newsmen earlier that the White House would have no objection to live television coverage of the proceedings.
