

Brazos number 11 in agency spending

Brazos County ranked 11th among Texas counties in expenditures of state and federal funds by state agencies during fiscal year 1973.

The figures, compiled by the Legislative Budget Board in Austin, indicated that 42 different state agencies or institutions expended $81,266,000 in Brazos County. State funds constituted $66,275,000 of this figure, while $14,994,000 of the state agencies' funds were derived from federal sources.

The main campus of Texas A&M University was the big spender by far, with funds totaling $37,023,000 from state sources and $2,010,000 from federal funds for a grand total of $39,033,000.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station was second largest in expenditures within the County. The Agricultural Experiment Station spent the greatest amount of federal funds in the County at $3,826,000. Combined, the federal funds with $7,499,000 in state funds, the Agricultural Experiment Station spent a total of $11,325,000 in Brazos County.

"Brazos County ranks high in the state in the amount of state and federal funds spent. It indicates that the County is a recipient of excellent treatment from the state legislature and continues to enjoy a place of importance with state government," State Representative Bill Prenal said in releasing the Legislative Budget Board estimates.

Moore named to speak

State Senator William T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan will be Texas A&M University's summer commencement speaker, announced TAMU President Jack K. Williams.

TAMU's summer graduation exercises will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, Aug. 16, in G. Rollie White Coliseum.

"We are delighted that Senator Moore can bring our commencement talk this summer," Dr. Williams said. "The university has no stronger friend and the state no finer legislator than Bill Moore.

Senator Moore is a 1940 TAMU graduate, receiving his degree in economics. He also holds a doctor of jurisprudence degree from the University of Texas.

At the time of his election to the Senate in 1948, he was the youngest member of the upper chamber. He is now second in seniority and serves as chairman of the State Affairs Committee and is a member of the Finance and Economic Development Committees. As chairman of the State Affairs Committee, he also serves as a member of the Legislative Audit Committee and Legislative Budget Board.

The 5th District of Texas, which Senator Moore represents includes 19 counties.

Judiciary article revisions debated

The Constitutional Convention has tentatively approved a proposed Judiciary Article, ending several weeks of debate and compromise. State Representative Bill Prenal said that the controversy surrounding the Judiciary Article was created by conflicting views in several areas.

The first area of controversy concerned the right of the state to appeal decisions in criminal cases. The present constitution does not allow the state to appeal such decisions. The proposed article,

Jog slated on Friday

A "Summer Jog" for anyone who runs for their health will be held Friday at TAMU.

The three-level jog sponsored by the Health and Physical Education Department, will take advantage of early morning coolness with 6:30 and 7 a.m. starting times.

"A lot of people around the campus are running," said Dr. John Chevette, "many on their own. This will provide an occasion for an organized run together."

Starting at G. Rollie White Coliseum, the summer jog will be for 10, five or three miles according to individual preference. Each course will have a leader. The 10-mile jog starts at 6:30 a.m., the five and three-milers at 7 a.m.

Chevette stressed that the summer jog is non-competitive. A social Friday evening will allow the joggers to visit again.

Chevette said women are also urged to take part. He said that they "participate in exceptional numbers in an informal noon-hour program at Kyle Field."

"We will also welcome any newcomers who wish to join us."

however, allows the state a limited right to appeal. Under the new proposal, the state would be allowed to appeal decisions holding a law unconstitutional or in other cases only at the discretion of the Supreme Court.

A second area of controversy concerned the merger of the present Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals. Under the present constitution, civil cases are appealed to the Supreme Court and criminal cases are appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals. The proposed article abolishes the Criminal Appeals Court but allows the Supreme Court to still handle civil and criminal cases separately, Prenal said.

A related area of controversy concerned the role of county courts and judges. The present county judges perform mainly administrative functions but also preside over a county court. They are not required to be lawyers. Prenal said that the controversy arose with a proposed plan to establish new circuit courts to replace courts and require all judges to be lawyers. Many county judges felt this was an attempt to take away their judicial functions.

The proposed article retains the powers and duties of the present county courts and judges, but allows the legislature to abolish or modify these courts and establish a system of circuit courts. Even if the county courts are abolished, the county judge would still retain his administrative functions.
