

Demos swab battle scars

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas Democratic conservatives and liberals swabbed their battle wounds Wednesday following the State Democratic Convention and each side, as usual, came up with a different casualty count.

"The latest count I have is that the new State Democratic Committee is composed of about 35 moderate-to-conservatives," Calvin Guest, who was re-elected state chairman, told newsmen Wednesday. He said that estimate included supporters of George Wallace. The state committee has 62 members elected by the 31 senatorial districts to control party affairs.

Guest estimated the new committee includes about 11 "moderates and labor people" and about 16 liberal Democrats.

A leader of challenges Tuesday against Gov. Dolph Briscoe's control of the convention, Colin Carl, an assistant attorney general, estimated the moderates and liberal now swing 30 to 34 votes of the powerful state committee.

Mrs. Beillie Carr, National committeewoman and the prime leader of protesters against Briscoe rule, estimated liberals had gained four to five places on the state committee.

Gordon Wynne Jr., Wills Point, a leader of Briscoe's convention organization, said Briscoe had at least 33 firm votes on the new state committee plus increased support from labor members.

Guest said the Texas delegation to the special national convention in Kansas City to consider national party rules is composed of "about one-third conservatives, about one-third moderates with labor and about one-third 'new reform' members."

"The Kansas City representation and the SDEC representation has a broader base in Texas politics than at any time I have known in the past," Guest told reporters.

The state convention struggled through 1½ hours Tuesday and early Wednesday with Briscoe winning the only two roll call votes, 3,125-2,183 and 3,065-1,498. He also got most of his recommended platform adopted and was named head of the Kansas City delegation.

On the other hand, the dissident Democrats, led by Mrs. Carr, claimed their protests were stronger than any that liberal Democrats have mounted in recent years.

Army gets first woman prof

Five new members are assigned to the Military Science Department.

The Army personnel includes TAMU's first woman instructor, 1st Lt. Theresa A. Holzmann. She serves as advisor for the women's ROTC program and unit.

Two officers who graduated from Texas A&M and two non-commissioned officers are also new to the Army detachment headed by Col. Thomas R. Parsons, professor of military science.

Maj. Joe D. Carothers of Grand Prairie; Capt. Horace J. Rektorik, Corpus Christi; S. Sgt. Jesse L. Best, Kinston, N.C., and S. Sgt. Walter W. Herrick, Medford, Mass., joined the Army ROTC instructor group.

A 1963 A&M grad, Maj. Carothers recently completed the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. He was earlier with the Army Aviation Test Board at Fort Rucker, Ala., and an assault helicopter unit in Vietnam. As an undergraduate, he was in Company E-2 and majored in physical education.

Capt. Rektorik was in the Class of '65, an economics major and First Brigade commander. He was awarded the M.B.A. here last spring. The ARMY officer commanded cavalry and armor outfits in Vietnam and Germany, respectively, and was a battalion executive officer in the 4th Armored Division. He is Ranger, Airborne and Pathfinder qualified. Both officers are married.

Sgt. Herrick was formerly with a military intelligence group and served in Vietnam. He served a recent tour at Fort Hood and, like Sgt. Best, will work primarily in administration at TAMU.

Sgt. Best most recently was with the 101st Airborne and served in Vietnam. He teaches and works with S. Sgt. Max Schill with the rifle teams. Both NCOs also are married.

United Fund sets budget of $30,000

Hearings to determine cash allotments for 13 community service agencies were conducted by the United Fund Budget Committee in late August.

A $30,000 goal was set this year by the United Fund of College Station. They had a $29,000 goal last year.

Of the 13 agencies, four benefit community youth: Brushy Day-Care Center, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Boys Club. Three have medical functions: Brazos Valley Rehabilitation Center, Red Cross and the Central Brazos Valley Mental Health Center. The following serve various needs of the community: Brazos County Community Council, College Station Recreation Council, Community House, Inc., Junior Museum of Natural History, the Salvation Army and the Retired Volunteer Program (RSVP).

A comparison of last year and this year's budget is as follows:

Agency	1973	1974
Brush Day-Care	$ 500	$ 600
Boy Scouts	3,000	2,600
Girl Scouts	3,000	3,000
Boys Club	822	900

Economic profs added to faculty

Dr. Hugh Macaulay is a visiting professor on leave from Clemson University in South Carolina where he is alumni professor of economics.

Dr. Morgan Reynolds, assistant professor and formerly an economist at the Institute for Research on Poverty at the University of Wisconsin, has also joined the staff.
