

Slide show will precede programs

By JIM CRAWLEY
Staff Writer

The MSC Directorate, in a regular meeting Monday, decided to advertise before MSC functions with a slide presentation.

The slide advertisements will announce MSC functions for the next week. Possible events where they could be shown were discussed. These included Aggie Cinema presentations and Town Hall concerts. Joe Lamm, Camera Committee chairman, presented the idea to the directorate.

In an open discussion, several members questioned the position of the MSC Council toward University Center scheduling. The council recently passed a resolution stating that the MSC committees and Student Government should have priority in scheduling.

Asked why the resolution was necessary, Bill Davis, MSC Council President, said, "It has to do with the MSC committees receiving Student Services Fees...and it's also selfish."

Other reasons stated by Davis, in the council meeting last week, were that the directorate and SG hold the majority of the meetings and the essentiality for the space to be available.

During the council president's opening comments, Davis suggested that the directorate inquire about paying for some of the smaller MSC committee's pages in the Aggie. The present policy states that committees can buy a one-half page layout for their committee. Davis indicated that certain committees didn't have the funds or the means to purchase a portion of an Aggie land page.

Davis also asked directorate members to come up with ideas about the 25th anniversary of the MSC. This will be in conjunction with the A&M Centennial in 1976.

In other business, the committee chairmen discussed possible plans for a spring function similar to RHA weekend. No further action was taken on this idea.

State Dept. requires Dec. 7 service exam

Texas A&M applicants who wish to take the Foreign Service written exam on Dec. 7 should pick up an application and send it to California by Oct. 31.

The applications are available at the Placement Office in Rudder Tower.

Senate receives resolution rewording old ticket policy

By ROSE MARY TRAVERSO
Staff Writer

A three-part resolution limiting the number of football tickets which students can get per game will be presented at the Student Senate meeting tomorrow.

The proposal will reword the present policy to eliminate sexual discrimination, said Barry Brooks, SG vice-president of student services. The present wording, which is ambiguous, has resulted in many complaints by upper classmen who could not get tickets for lower classmen of the same sex.

A maximum of six tickets is proposed for away games and 10 for home games. In both cases, at least half of the total number must be for individuals eligible for tickets on that day.

In lieu of "The Senator," a SG public relations, publication, Jeff Dunn, SG vice-president of academic affairs suggested a one-page sheet concerning current issues. The last issue of "The Senator" was complete but did not make it to press until the information was old.

"The Senator" was obviously a failure," said John Tyler, SG vice president of rules and regulations.

The committee decided to buy six pages for student government in the 1975 Aggie. This is the same number purchased last year and totals $330.

Curt Marsh, SG vice-president of finance, suggested that faculty names be listed under specific

Scarce guns, ammo hunted by hunters

Hunters are hunting for scarce guns and ammunition before they are sold after ducks and deer this year.

Buying goods dealers across the country report shortages of rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

The shortages resulted from limited supplies of steel for gun barrels, choice woods for rifle stocks and plastic and brass for cartridge cases, dealers said.

Officials in many states reported increases in both poaching and legal hunting of game birds and animals. The price of meat is a factor, some say, but others said it's still cheaper than at the supermarket.

With hunting season about to start in many states, gun dealers in Maine to the Mexican border are looking at thinly stocked rifle and ammo bins. "There's a shortage of everything popular," said Dave Gils of Coast-to-Coast Stores in Fargo, N. D.

Steel shortages have affected production at the Ithaca Gun Co., said John Hrana, marketing manager for the upstate New York gun maker. "Most of the effect was in the first part of the year," Hrana said. "But our production forecast is being met almost 100 per cent now."

A shortage of top quality walnut wood for gunstocks has caused delays for some manufacturers. A few have turned to birch and other woods to fill the gap.

Most dealers reported little difficulty getting inexpensive guns, but the demand is for mid-priced and quality firearms and they are in short supply.

This condenser, with gauges and buttons peeking out, makes a hefty latticework for the vines that have heavily entangled it on campus.

Co-eds use buddy system following attempted assault

An attempted assault early Monday morning has most women in Krueger Hall locking their doors and using the "buddy system" even to get a Coke.

The woman said she was returning to her room from a second floor and Shisa Handy carrel when she was attacked across from her room.

The incident was reported to the campus police who alerted College Station police.

Residents of Krueger say police escorted in the late arrivals after the incident and they are afraid to go out even the shortest period of time alone.
