

Palestine Liberation group fully recognized by Arabs

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—Arab leaders gave full recognition to Yasir Arafat's Palestine Liberation Organization as the "sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people" but left Jordan's King Hussein a voice in Palestinians' future.

The move Monday followed an apparent reconciliation between Hussein and PLO chief Yasir Arafat. Their conflict had threatened the Arab summit with failure.

The resolution adopted by consensus late Monday said the summit "reaffirms the rights of the Palestinian people to set up an independent national authority, under the leadership of the PLO as the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people on any Palestinian land that is liberated. Arab countries must support this authority when it is established in all fields and at all levels."

The Arab leaders did not specify who was to represent the West Bank Palestinians in negotiations with Israel but left it to Jordan, Egypt, Syria and the PLO "to establish a formula for organizing the relationship between them . . ."

Israel has occupied the Jordanian West Bank since the 1967 Mideast war.

For the PLO, the umbrella organization for Palestinian guerrilla groups, the Arab action was the third major step in two weeks in its drive to achieve universal recognition as the sole spokesman for the Palestinian people.

The United Nations General Assembly has invited the PLO to take in its debates on the Palestinian issue, and French Foreign Minister Jean Sauvagnargues met last week with Arafat in Beirut. Sauvagnargues said the U.N. action was "the right decision."

For Hussein, who had demanded a clear mandate to negotiate Israel's withdrawal from the West Bank, the summit decision was something less than a victory.

In withdrawing his objections to PLO endorsement earlier in the day, Hussein told the summit he reserved his position concerning future peace talks with Israel. Conference sources said Egypt's President Anwar Sadat made a similar statement.

Hussein had earlier told the Arab leaders he would refuse to attend a resumed Middle East peace conference in Geneva if he was obliged to submit to PLO authority over the West Bank area.
