OSU's coach Woody Hayes reprimanded by Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State was reprimanded publicly by Big Ten commissioner Wayne Duke Tuesday with the warning that a one-game suspension will follow any repetition of his "unsportsmanlike conduct" of last weekend.

Hayes blasted officials and Michigan State defensive tactics after the formerly top-ranked Buckeyes were nipped 16-13 by the Spartans in a bedlam finish at East Lansing, Mich.

Duke said his action against Hayes stemmed from a new code of ethics approved by the conference last summer.

Duke said Hayes can "appeal to the Conference Compliance Committee if he desires to do so."

The commissioners said Hayes was cited under the new code which states: "Acts of unsportsmanlike conduct shall include, but not be limited to, any person who publicly is unduly critical of any game official, Conference personnel, another member institution or its personnel.

"Such person shall be subject to public reprimand for the first offense and to a one-game suspension for an additional offense."

The big furor developed after Ohio State contended it had scored a winning touchdown with time running out. After a post-game huddle the game officials still ruled time had expired before an Ohio State player grabbed a loose center snap and barged into the end zone.

Hayes contended the officials should have called time out in the fading seconds when Michigan State players stalled in lining up after the preceding play.

Speidel takes first in bowling tourney

By MARY RUSSO
Staff Sports Writer

Mary Speidel took first in state for the Aggie women's bowling team, surprising everyone with her performance this weekend.

The sixth seeded Speidel outscored all her teammates and tied with a bowler from West Texas State University for the singles events.

In team competition the Bone, Benson, Speidel and Morgan team took second with Pam Brown and Terry Manning taking second in doubles competition.

Out of 39 competitors, four A&M players placed in the top 10 over-all.

The meet, held at the Triangle Bowling Lanes in Bryan, awarded A&M three trophies and four medals.

In the Lamar Bowling tourney, the A&M team of Karen Myers and Manning took second, with Manning and Myers sharing first place singles honors. The Brown, Manning, Myers and Janis Williamson team took first at Lamar.

Looks like the only way the Ags can be sure of a bowl bid after the loss to SMU is to start a bowl of their own. But who knows — we might not even get selected for that one.

And how about the Sun Bowl? Mississippi State and Tennessee, gee whiz, might as well rename it the Turkey Bowl or how about the Taco Bowl!

And how many of you realize that Michigan State could represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl? How many of you even knew there was a Michigan State before last weekend?

As for Emory Bellard's view of the bowl situation? "I've read the what if's 'till I'm cross-eyed."

The Ags manage to inch their way up the poll, slowly gaining respect, finally reach a pinnacle of fourth and fifth ranking and what happens? They lose. It happened twice this year: at Kansas and SMU.

Both games were played on rain-soaked fields. With all the rain in College Station, one might suppose we would be well prepared to play on a wet surface, but not so, evidently. Yet the Ags only fumbled once against SMU, ah, but what a costly fumble.

The Kansas loss might be attributed to three games on the road. But to what do you attribute the SMU loss? "Sports Illustrated", perhaps?

Remember when time!

Remember when the Ags were only two points shy of SMU and the Mustangs had the Farmers backed up close to the goal line. Quarterback David Walker faded for a screen pass and then what?

"We went with what we thought would be the safest play," said Bellard. And that's what it was, a safety.

Jerry Honore and Randy Haddox are responsible for the only scoring in the last two games. Seems like the only offensive player not getting the credit he deserves is Jim Hartman. Hartman, along with Honore, are the backs who pushed and shoved for those touchdowns which almost gave the Ags their fourth consecutive win over SMU.
