Hurry, there's one

As the construction on campus eliminates more and more parking spaces on streets and in lots, day students are forced to park under extremely crowded conditions. Cars are now lined up every morning in lot numbers 5 and 8 near the Zachry Engineering Center seeking a spot to claim.

Your savings account won't earn more interest than BB&L pays . . .

(But it might earn less somewhere else.)

BB&L pays the maximum interest permitted by law. Your savings won't earn more at any financial institution anywhere. In addition to maximum return on your savings, BB&L pays interest from the day of deposit (even on deposits made after the 10th of the month), offers you the convenience of branch offices and Savemobile service and $40,000 insurance on accounts by an agency of the government.

Look at the rates listed below. If your savings account isn't earning this much, you need to consider joining the thousands of Brazos Valley families who trust BB&L with their savings.

For more than 50 years, BB&L has been the place to save for the future.

Type of Account	Minimum Balance	Rate	Effective annual yield (compounded continuously)
Passbook Savings	-	5 1/4%	5.39%
90-day Passbook	-	5 3/4%	5.92%
90-day Certificate	$1,000.	5 3/4%	5.92%
1-year Certificate	1,000.	6 1/2%	6.72%
2 1/2-year Certificate	1,000.	6 3/4%	6.98%
4-year Certificate	1,000.	7 1/2%	7.79%
6-year Certificate	1,000.	7 3/4%	8.06%

(All rates are governed by minimum balance and maturity dates established by federal regulation. A substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal.)

Campus briefs

Consultant to speak

Barbara Trombley, national consultant for Houghton Mifflin publishers, will speak at the Texas A&M University spring workshop on English Jan. 24-25.

Exec course starts

Registration and orientation for the annual Executive Development Course is planned for Jan. 26. The three-week professional management course will run through Feb. 14 in Rudder Tower.

Application deadline set

TAMU students expecting to graduate this spring must make deposit application by Feb. 14.

Graduate and undergraduate students should apply at the Coke Building. The $8 graduation fee is payable at the Fiscal Office. Graduate students then report to the Graduate College, Room 209, undergraduates to Room of the Coke Building.

Prof starts program

On Wednesday at noon, Dr. Phil West, assistant professor of Educational Administration, will start a program to bring speakers from 11 areas of the arts and humanities to "introduce art into decision making."

Participants are invited to bring their lunch to the meetings in Room 623 of the Harrington Education Center.

Announcements go on sale

TAMU students expecting to graduate May 10 may order graduation announcements in Room 217 of the MSC, 8-4, Mondays through Friday, Feb. 21 is the deadline for placing orders.

Librarian to speak

At the spring English workshop, Kay Krzasa of the University Library will conduct a program Friday afternoon on research assistance provided by the library staff. Mary Jo Hoffman will instruct participants on teaching logic.

S.G. rents refrigerators

Student government will rent regulation size refrigerators Wednesday through Friday, 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the basement of the old hospital. The cost is $21 plus a $10 deposit. For information call Allison King at 693-4833 or the student government office at 845-3051.

Emergency blood free

Blood is free for students in emergencies through the twice annual blood drive conducted on campus.

Upon giving blood, credits are awarded to A&M students and their immediate family. Under special conditions, former students, faculty, and staff are eligible for the same benefits.

When requesting for the credits, the patient's name, why the blood is needed and the hospital where the patient is staying are required information.

If interested in further information contact Jim Cornwell or Tom Walker at the Student government office, 845-2250.

Poetry contest opens

The Arts Committee is conducting the First Arts Committee Poetry Contest.

Six winners will be given cash awards and award certificates. The prizes consist of $100, $75, $50, and three honorable mentions of $10 each.

Students may submit no more than three pages of original poetry. All entries must be submitted before 5 p.m., Wednesday, January 29, in room 511 of the Harrington Office Tower.

Winners will be announced at an awards presentation program, March 12. All current students, except Arts Committee members, may enter. Rules can be obtained in the Student Programs Office.
