Japanese pianist to play for Ags

Japanese pianist Minoru Nojima performs tonight in the Young Artist Series at Texas A&M University.

The Nojima concert featuring music of Scarlatti, Schumann, Debussy and Prokofiev will be in the Rudder Theater at 8 p.m. Admission to the concert is by Town Hall season ticket, student activity card or separate tickets, on sale at the Rudder Center box office.

"A pianist of major significance" is the New York Times' view of the young artist who first appeared in the U. S. in 1970. "A phenomenal talent" and "a sense of style and technical brilliance unsurpassed by the greatest, most established keyboard virtuosos" have been other Nojima reviews.

Nojima was the Van Cliburn Competition runnerup in 1969. Japan proclaimed him a national treasure following his debut at age 12 with the NHK Orchestra.

Chessmen to try for Houston win

Four Aggies are Houston-bound for the regional Association of College Unions-International (ACU-I) competition in February. Mark Grohmann, freshman nuclear engineering major; Brian Klaus, freshman petroleum engineering major; Kent Parsons, sophomore nuclear engineering major and Kermit Pittman, sophomore building construction major were the winners of the local tournament held here last weekend.

The ACU-I annually hosts tournaments for a number of indoor games for the organization's member schools.

Dorm 1 was vacated Sunday night to conserve energy and maintenance, said Jerry Mainord, Assistant Director of Student Affairs, Monday.

The Corps consolidates every spring, said Mainord, because there are fewer people.

Second Battalion Staff and F-1 moved from Dorm 1 to Dorm 2. D-1, M-1 and 1st Brigade Staff are now in Dorm 3. The companies moving from Dorm 1 are only 1/5 of the cadets who had to move. "We don't move people in the Corps," Mainord said. "We move only units."

Dorm 1 was the logical dorm to vacate because W-1, women cadets, will occupy it next fall.

Roughly $40,000 has been appropriated for renovations, said Pat Curington, manager of construction. The work is scheduled to begin this summer.

Renovations in Dorm 1 include removing urinals, installing dressing counters, lavatories and mirrors in the restrooms, installing curtained cubicles in the showers and ventilation and electrical modifications.

More electrical outlets will be added for the "finer things of life" such as hair dryers, said Curington.
