

Women win trophy at tourney

Texas A&M's women basketball team added three victories to their record and a trophy to their trophy case this past weekend in the Baylor Tournament.

The Aggies got their first victory in the opening round Friday afternoon by beating Dallas Baptist by a score of 77-40. Karen Aulenbacher and Ruth Whiteley tied for high point honors with 14 while Sally Morisse was the only other Aggie in double figures with 11.

Later Friday the Ags won game number two but it wasn't as easy at the first one. It took them an overtime to knock off West Texas State, 74-69. Karen Aulenbacher was again the high scorer for the Aggies with 26. Sally Morisse was the only other Aggie in double figures with 13. Laura Holmes and Cissy Auclair were next with nine, with Dana Callaway hitting seven and Diane Quitta and Cindy Horton rounding out the scoring with six and four points, respectively.

The third game of the tourney was a different story as the Aggies ran into a roadblock known as the Baylor Bears. Baylor won the game, but not without help.

"Let me put it this way, they had 12 fouls to our 29, and that sounds a little fishy," Aggie coach Kay Don said. "It was really bad, we had four starters who were out of the game with ten minutes left."

"I won't blame it all on the refs but it was really bad. I think things will be a little different when they come and play on our court," Don said.

The two teams got together on the Aggie home court tonight, game time 5:15.

"I thought it was one of our best games of the year, it was really a team effort," Don said.

The Aggie scoring was well balanced in the Baylor game with three Aggies scoring in double figures. Laura Holmes led all scorers with 18. Karen Aulenbacher had 14, and Diane Quitta had 12. Other Ags getting into the scoring act were Cissy Auclair with nine, Sally Morisse with eight, Cindy Horton six, and Dana Callaway and Ruth Whiteley each had two.

In the third place game the Aggies had a tough time with Texas Women's University before finally winning out 60-54. Cissy Auclair was high for the Aggies with 26, followed by Sally Morisse with 14 and Karen Aulenbacher's eight.

Cissy Auclair was named to the All-Tournament team for the Aggies.

After tonight's re-match with Baylor the Aggies go to Houston Friday for the City of Houston Women's Tournament. There are 31 teams from four states in the tournament with the Aggies playing Baylor again at 2:00 Friday.

Basketball team hopes to regain winning ways

The Texas Aggie basketball team will attempt to atone for its loss to the Razorbacks and give Coach Shelby Metcalf his 100th SWC win when the Baylor Bears invade G. Rollie White Coliseum tonight.

The Ags will probably have fire in their eyes after suffering a 95-89 double overtime defeat at the hands of Arkansas. This will be a must game for the A&M hoopsters, as they are again tied with the Hogs for the conference lead at 5-1.

An Aggie win tonight would make Metcalf the fourth coach in SWC basketball history with 100 loop wins.

Baylor Coach Carroll Dawson brings a 3-3 SWC slate into the contest with hopes of robbing Metcalf of the century mark tonight. He also brings with him one of the finest freshman players in the conference in the person of 6-9½ center Tony Rufus.

Rufus along with sophomore guard Billy Carlisle have been the main spark of the Baylor attack. Rufus is the leading scorer for the Bears with Carlisle being an excellent floor man.

The Baylor eagles are not to be taken lightly as they are only one point away from being tied for second with Tech at 4-2, after losing a squeaker to Texas Saturday 63-62. The Bears starting lineup is rounded out by Tom Corley at guard, James Weaver and Jeff Miller at the forwards.

Tonight's game will be the 126th meeting between the two teams with A&M leading the series 75-50. Fans can expect a physical game when the Bears come to town, especially tonight with both teams striving to overcome tough losses.

The depth-laden Aggies appeared to be ready for the game as they shot well and moved briskly in yesterday's workout. The probable starting lineup for the Aggies will be Mike Floyd, Sonny Parker, John Thornton, Jerry Mercer and Barry Davis.

The Aggies will face Arkansas in a rematch Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at G. Rollie White Coliseum.
