Aggies beat Southwest, take dive against Tech

By PAUL McGRATH
Staff Sports Writer
The Texas A&M Swim team had their ups and downs this past weekend in precisely that order. The Aggie tankers pulled the welcome mat out from under visiting Southwest Missouri by a team score of 62-42 last Friday night. However, the following day against Texas Tech saw the men take a dive in the opposite direction, losing 78-35 in Lubbock.

Concerning the Tech meet, Swimming Coach Dennis Fosdick said "We didn't have one good swim in the whole meet. We swam flat. It was just a disaster." Fosdick said he was "very disappointed".

The A&M men may have been psyched by number of Tech fans present, plus also the Red Raider band and cheerleaders. Their band played their own version of the Aggie War Hymn that started out with the same notes but then suddenly changed to "Old McDonald had a Farm."

Fosdick believes the attendance may have been partly to blame for the loss. Another thing, he said, was the failure in the 200 yard medley relay race that began the meet. The team had to do well in it but came out flat and could never make up the points after that.

The Ags didn't swim that many people against the Missourians in an effort to save them for Tech. It didn't work out so well as the results show. The men swam well against Southwest and could have defeated them more convincingly if the rested players had participated.

Tim Hale took a first in the 200-yard freestyle and Scott Jones did the same in the 50-yard freestyle. Joining these two in the winner's circle were Curtis Jordan in the 200-yard individual medley and Mike Springer in the 500-yard freestyle. "Those we're experimenting with are finally finding a place, but they're still a year from scoring points for us," said Fosdick.

Rejoining the team after spending some time on the ineligibility list, were Oran Marksbury and Steve Moore. They swam against Tech but were obviously not in their old form. Fosdick said, "I really can't expect them to do well after just becoming eligible again." The two were off the team for academic reasons concerning scholastic hours.

Tonight both the women and men travel to Houston to swim against the Rice Owls. Rice has just recently given out scholarships to swimmers and for the first year, has a women's team.

This weekend the team will be in Dallas to participate in the SMU Invitational.

Tennis team returns with 6th place finish

By TONY GALLUCCI
Staff Sports Writer

The tennis team returned from a weekend tournament at Pan American with a disappointing 6th place finish. Coach Richard Barker's troops gained all their points by winning three of four first round matches. Bill Hoover knocked off Rice's Scott Turpin 7-6, 6-4. Bill Wright took SMU's John Muller 6-4, 6-7, 6-4. Muller is the number 1 junior in South Africa.

Sophomore Charles Emley beat Don Stafford of Mary Hardin Baylor 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

The Ags only first round singles loss was Mark Silberman's 6-4, 6-2 defeat at the hands of Pan American's Paco Ceron. In the second round the Ags were not so fortunate. Hoover lost to Bill Scamlon of Trinity 6-4, 6-2. Wright was beaten by Ricardo Eynaudi of Pan Am 7-6, 6-1. And Emley was blistered by Trinity's Bill Matyastik 6-1, 6-1.

In doubles the Aggies lost both first round matches. Hoover and Wright fell to David King and Mike Grant of Trinity 6-3, 6-3. Emley and Silberman lost to Houston's Matt Rainey and Tom McArtle 6-3, 6-1. Trinity took team honors in the tourney followed in order by Houston, and Pan Am. Mary Hardin Baylor and Rice were tied for fourth followed by A&M, SMU and A&I.

Possibly only SMU had a more disappointing day as the 4th-nationally ranked Mustangs finished one place behind the 16th ranked Ags. SMU ace Dan Hardy was not representing the Ponies at the tourney.

"We didn't play well," said Barker. "I was kinda disappointed. I felt we should have played better. It's kind of early and we missed some workouts. It's not surprising we're playing a little down. But we really got killed in doubles. At least we got our feet wet in the singles."

On Feb. 19 the Ags will meet Sam Houston State in their first dual match of the year. "We'll have a chance to look at some more players," said Barker. There will be six singles matches and three doubles. "We'll have a good match," said Barker.

Top five teams ranked by points

Walton Hall, Fowler Hall, Sq15 and E2 lead the campus as the IM Office posts final point standings for sports completed before the start of the 1975 Spring semester.

Upperclassmen Corps standings are: E2, 428; Sq8, 403; Sq2, 392; D1, 391; and F1, 379. The squadrons look strong with eight in the upper half. The first brigade is leading in the Army side with six teams in the upper half.

Women teams rankings start with Fowler, 353. Keathley follows with 292. The rest of the women shape up with Hughes, 258; Kruegar, 248; PE Majors, 160; and W1, 60.

Campus men are led by Walton's 446 points. Moore is challenging with 430. Other men's teams are: Puryear, 378; Hart, 352; and White, 352.

The fish rankings surprise even the Corps. Sq15 fish end up leading with a 379 and D2 a very competitive second with 376. Their corresponding upperclassmen were in the bottom half. The rest of the top five are E2, 353; Sq4, 338 and L1, 337.

Handball is enough to hurry anyone, but these two. Their looks say more than that about the fast-moving game. In the lifeguard shirt, Steve Logdon, is challenging one of the campus' finest handball players, Jack "Bombom" Gressett. Earlier this year, Gressett took half the first place honors for doubles. The photos illustrate typical return techniques—look at the ball mean enough and it'll die. (This is called a kill shot).

Spring brings softball play for fast, slow

With spring comes softball. Fast-pitch and slow-pitch offer to those people who feel more confident swinging at some thing bigger than a baseball, an outlet for "the gas."

Seven innings or one hour constitutes an IM game, unless a tie occurs then one more inning will be played. The eight-run rule will be enforced after three and a half innings. A inning begins when the third out occurs in the bottom of the preceding inning.

A slow-pitch team will have 10 players, while a fast-pitch can have only nine. Seven players constitutes a playing team.

Five men and five women, alternating batting positions, composes a co-rec team. Women play neither pitcher nor catcher, but must fill four other positions.

Play must begin within ten minutes of the scheduled playing time. For each minute a team is late a run is awarded to their opponents. Score cards must be filled out before the game begins.

Overthrown foul-territory balls limit runners to two bases, the ball is still in play at this point. The streets and parking lots around areas are out-of-play territories and base award is automatic.

When the ball is received by the pitcher from an infielder, the base where the runner is, becomes his. Upon the final throw, runner's last base position is awarded if the throw is from an outfielder or second successive play.

Three bases can be taken on a fair hit striking a tree. A fair hit landing in the street is a home run. A fair hit rolling into the street is a three-base award.

A PERSON SLIDING IS AUTOMATICALLY OUT OF THE GAME.

Catchers and umpires wear face masks and no player may wear metal cleats.

A player removed from a game can only coach from that point of competition until the season ends.

Four innings constitute a complete game.

Entries close today at five. A team representative must attend the meeting tonight in room 267 of G. Rollie.

Doux Chene beats Devil

The independents took the intramural eye this week as Red Devil met Doux Chene in a basketball game that showed speed and accuracy count.

Led by rousing Rohn Campbell, the DCers took to the wood and net capturing 48 points to the Red Devil's 43.

Greg Arnold and Brian Holme proved to be the top scorers for Doux Chene. Arnold sunk 12 points while Holme took the top honors with 16 points.

DC generally made their moves with such speed that the Devils were late in reacting, allowing those extra seconds down court necessary for clear open shooting.

Campbell would make an excellent steal and Holme would back him up. This second half action made up the three baskets DC was behind at half.

Red Devil man Mark Schluter rebounded the ball and put it in. He made 14 points. The Devils were effectively breaking the DC defense, but their shoots didn't make the hoop.

Twosome tennis time told

Bring a friend and challenge for the top tennis trophy. Entries close for doubles February 18. Players must furnish their own balls and rackets. Playwill consist of one pro set, the winner being the first to win eight games. Playing schedule will be posted February 20 in the IM Office.

Wrestling Weight-in when wins warned

The lightest tennis shoes and sweat shorts accompany entrants February 25 as they enter and weigh-in for Im wrestling competition.

Forms must be filled out and brought to the 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. weigh-in taking place in the men's dressing room, G. Rollie. Teams must weigh-in together. A team consists of entries in five different weight classes. Classes are: 126, 134, 142, 150, 158, 167, 177, 191 and unlimited.

Bouts will be two one-minute rounds and one two-minute round. The A&M varsity wrestlers will officiate by NCAA rules. Practice in the wrestling room will be held February 17, 24, 25 and 27.
