Eleven games remain

Texas Tech visits A&M as SWC race narrows

By DAVID WALKER
Staff Sports Writer
The Texas Aggies have three weeks left in the 1975 regular season.

In those three weeks they play 11 games, nine in Southwest Conference play and two non-conference games.

The conference games left for the Ags are home games with Texas Tech and Texas and three on the road with Rice. The non-conference games are on April 14 against Northeast Louisiana at Kyle Field. The Aggies are 2-4 on the season and the feeling is that if the Ags have a 30-win season that will be good enough for a NCAA playoff berth.

court with no ice, no cups, etc. "Bands?" I asked. "Of course, we want the Band," said Shelby.

A special thanks goes out to the Saddle Tramps, Tech rooters, who greeted us at the airport, red carpet beneath our feet. Their crowd roared with the same vicious pulsation that an Aggie-Tech game could elicit.

The 1974/75 TEAM was not always as good nor as bad as they looked. They were poor at home against Tech but Gerald Myers and squad were truly great; we had a bad case of "NERVITIS" against a gigantic fast Cincy five. I believe they might have beaten us anyway, but being unable to run away from them during their first ten minutes of jitters was enough. We learned much and with a nucleus for next year returning, we will be back.

Coach Gerald Myers, boyish and self-assured, did us proud. He, like all of us who know, too was aware he could have been elsewhere. We thank you sincerely, Coach Myers.

To win in a non-individual sport, one must become part of a unit and if I can borrow from John Wooden yet again, it is that "THE MOST important ingredient of stardom, is the rest of the TEAM." This is true for players, substitutes, even coaches! No year goes by for any intelligent human being without learning something.

The many Aggie students and their wives and dates who drove to Lubbock plus, of course, the fabulous former student body of the "Dustlands," what can one say but, "Go raibh mile maith agaibh" (1,000 thanks to you, in Gaelic, it being almost St. Patrick's Day when I wrote this article).

I know that Shelby has already a new winning formula with the Kissinger-like traveler, Reuther, scouting the country for a good BIG man (low post) and a 6'4" guard! Norman will then be able to rest — a few minutes — with his lovely patient wife, and Janice Metcalf will send Shelby black bass fishing for relaxation! Bob Gobin will learn and learn and someday will be as calm as John Wooden or as superb a play-by-play analyst as I have ever heard. You should listen to him someday!

A loss was not in the Metcalf/Reuther/Gobin game-plan, believe me, and don't forget come Easter Monday, March 31; of those playoff teams there will be losers, and the further one climbs the ladder, the harder is the fall! It happens every spring!! Meanwhile let our heroes wear the SWC crown — NO Mickey Mouse affair to anyone except some writers — with honor and dignity and we, the true fans, will always remember the 1974-75 winter that was the Aggies.

We bid "adios" to Big Ced (Cedric Joseph) — a MAN at last and I mean that from my heart — who was plagued by injuries most of the year. His game here against Tech and his cloud-touching rebounding against TCU and SMU in Dallas were super efforts.

Sonny P. and Barry D., both one-for-one in SWC play will be back to do it again, along with Ray Roberts and company. To the former writer from The Batt, Jerry Wizeg, now with the "Houston Chronicle" who always asked Barry, win or lose, why and how it happened — we thank you too.

For Barry, who has known the game since he was four and does not smile a lot but when he does, that big dude from Galveston looks magnificent! Come September, Coach Emory Bellard and his "Top Ten" crew will continue Shelby's NEW MOTTO: "Winning is a figure of speech, at Texas A&M." Let it be our cry, AGGIES!

EPILOGUE
I feel I speak for all Aggies everywhere when I say that we deeply appreciate the treatment we received in Lubbock for the playoffs.
