Maroon kills White, 69-0

By MIKE BRUTON

With an unusually strong passing game, devastating running and a stiff defense the Maroon team blasted the Whites 69-0 in Texas A&M's annual spring football game, Saturday at Kyle Field.

Coach Emory Ballard said he was pleased with the performance of the Maroon squad and the improvement of several individuals on the White team as he termed the spring session as 'the best we've had since I've been at A&M.'

Ballard should be pleased as the "new" Aggie offense, the I-Bone, which was run almost flawlessly by the Maroon unit picking up 689 yards including 287 via the airways. The White offense running against one of the best defenses in the country had some outstanding plays.

The Aggie mentor was also tickled to have a new kind of quarterback problem. There are three A&M quarterbacks, David Shipman, Mike Jay and David Walker, who are performing well enough that Ballard declined to name who would win the starting job. In the past it has sometimes been difficult to find a quarterback at all. "We'll name the No. 1 quarterback at a later date," said Ballard, who showed his admiration of the unique problem. "We're at the point where we can choose for positive reasons rather than negative," he added.

All quarterbacks played well with the first unit as they each engineered scoring drives. Shipman, who ran the Maroons for almost three quarters, ran for two touchdowns, passed for another and was under the tee on two scoring drives. Shipman finished the night with 92 yards on 20 carries showing tremendous strength as he continuously broke tackles. He also hit eight of 13 passes for 183 yards including a beautiful pass and run combo to flashy Carl Roaches for a 70-yard TD.

Jay directed three drives to paydirt taking the final steps on two himself. He passed twice connecting on both for one touchdown and again, Roaches was the man on the receiving end. Jay did a fine job of executing the option as he gained 45 yards in nine trips.

Walker, last year's field general, joined the Maroon squad with a little less than six minutes left to go in the game and still led the team across the goal line twice. On his first snap with the Maroon team Walker dropped back and found Roaches at the 8-yard line for a 24-yard completion. Bucky Sams added the finishing touches with a 4-yard run after an offside penalty on the Whites. Two minutes and 45 seconds later Walker spotted tight end Richard Osborne who had split the safeties and threw a strike that resulted in a 49-yard TD.

Not only the quarterbacks shined as All-SWC halfback Bubba Bean ran wild gaining 174 yards in 18 tries. Bean resembled O. J. Simpson when he was at USC, running from tailback out of the "I" picking his holes with perfection. Skip Walker collected 58 yards carrying the pigskin only ten times.

David "Kojak" Craig led the White squad's running attack with 61 yards in 15 totes.

Defensively the Aggies were strong as usual with the Maroon unit allowing 66 yards total offense. The White defense, obviously outmaneuvered, had several individuals who did a commendable job. Linebacker Garth Ten Napel led the Maroon charge getting on ten tackles and Edgar Fields barricaded the middle well as he was involved in seven collisions. All-American Pet Thomas drew a murmur from the crowd of about 12,000 when he went through a block to upset Craig for a 4-yard loss on a sweep. Others performing well on the first defense were; Blake Schwarz, Tank Marshall, and All-American Ed Simoni.

Jesse Hunnicutt looked good for the Whites as he was in on numerous tackles. Charles Bell also played an admirable game for the White-clad squad.

Throughout the game the offensive linemen, especially on the Maroon team, opened gaping crevices in the defensive fronts. Much of the 689 yards gained by the first offense should be credited to them. The Maroon line included; Dennis Swilley, Glen Bujnoch, Craig Glendenning, Bruce Welch and Henry Tracey.

Roaches has his finest pass receiving game since the LSU game of 1973 when he caught seven aeriels for 156 yards and a TD. The little fuel-injected split end pulled in five passes for 140 yards and two TDs in Saturday night's game. Osborne gathered in three passes for 94 yards and one score. Skip Walker, who lines up at flanker when the I-formation is employed, caught three passes for 42 yards.
