

Baker, Fouraker named 1975 distinguished alums

Robert W. Baker, Houston attorney and banker and former legislator, and Dr. Lawrence E. Fouraker, dean of the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration, are the 1975 recipients of A&M's "Distinguished Alumni Award."

The award, jointly presented by the university and its Association of Former Students, has previously been bestowed on only 47 of the more than 72,000 graduates in the school's 99-year history. Such recognition is reserved for former students "whose exceptional contributions to society have singled them out as men of great stature and ability."

Formal presentation will be made at commencement exercises Saturday, May 10.

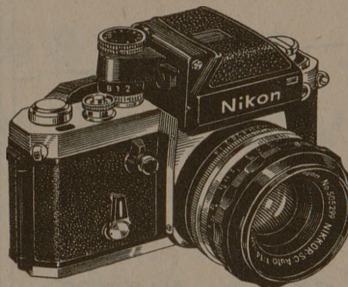

Baker, who received a degree in economics from A&M in 1946 and a law degree from the University of Texas in 1949, is chairman of the boards of directors of Guaranty National Bank and Mercantile Bank of Houston. He also has interests in insurance, investment and development companies.

The Millican native served 10 years in the Legislature, from 1952 until 1958 in the House of Representatives and the next four years in the Senate. He has been a member of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, since 1971.

Dr. Fouraker, who was reared in Bryan, has been on the Harvard faculty since 1961 and was named dean of the Graduate School of Busness Administration in 1970. He is known for his theories in international business and his pioneer work in the development of experimental economics.
