

Baseballers eliminated by Sooners in playoffs

By DAVID WALKER
Staff Sports Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — "He was the best college left hander that I've ever hit against," that's the way Aggie second baseman Mike Schraeder described Oklahoma pitcher Marty Kunkler who snuffed out the Aggies' hopes of advancing to the College World Series.

Kunkler had the Aggies guessing until the eighth inning Sunday in Norman, Oklahoma where they ended one of the most successful baseball seasons in Aggie history. The 6-4 loss to the Sooners gave the Aggies a 32-15-1 record for the year, the most wins ever by an Aggie team.

The Aggies opened the double elimination tournament on Saturday, one day late because of rain. The Aggies opened with the nation's fourth ranked team, the Oklahoma University Sooners. The Aggies went into the eighth inning of the game trailing the Sooners and ace pitcher Bob Shirley by a 4-2 count.

Aggie shortstop Robert Bonner led off the ninth with a walk. The next two Aggies went out on three pitches. With a 1-2 count on Mike Schraeder, Shirley was only one pitch away from the victory. Schraeder hit the next pitch over the left field wall for a two run home run and a tie game at 4-4. The Aggies lost it in the bottom of the ninth when the Sooners put together a walk, stolen base and single to win it 5-4.

The heart breaking loss meant the Aggies had to come back and win four in a row to win the tournament and advance to the world series.

That same afternoon the Aggies had to play first round loser Iowa with the loser getting an early trip home. Both teams were sluggish in the early goings with the Aggies finally winning 9-6.

Iowa had a 6-5 lead going into the bottom half of the eighth when the Aggies erupted for four runs and the victory. Tommy Hawthorne had four RBI's for the Aggies on two clutch hits with Schraeder and Jim Bratsen each had two.

The win gave the Aggies new life and an extra night in Norman, it also set the school record for most wins in a season, with 32. Sunday the Aggies had to play the loser of the Tulsa-Oklahoma game. Oklahoma lost in the fourteenth inning thus setting up the re-match with the Aggies.

The second Oklahoma game was similar to the first one in that the Aggies trailed early, came back but finally lost. The one sure similarity was that both games were heart breakers.

The Oklahoma fans and media representatives were very impressed how the Aggies battled and what a good team they were. The general feeling was that they were very fortunate to win.

There were some bright spots for the Aggies. The Aggie pitching staff of James Gibson, Clint Thomas, David Lockett and Alan Wilson all pitched well. All will be back next year.

Wilson has to be a bright spot for coach Tom Chandler. He had been used only once all year before the David Lockett, mainstay of a good Aggie pitching staff that returns intact for next season.
