Hoffa jury calls many

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press
DETROIT — Some 70 witnesses will be called before a federal grand jury investigation of the disappearance of former Teamsters President Jimmy Hoffa, the government said Tuesday.

The jury will begin hearing witnesses next Tuesday and is to continue for several weeks, said Robert Ozer, who heads the U.S. Attorney's Organized Crime Strike Force here.

Among the early witnesses, Ozer said, is to be Hoffa's foster son, 41-year-old Charles "Chuckie" O'Brien, who was described by sources as a key figure in unraveling the four-week-old Hoffa mystery.

Hoffa dropped from sight July 30 after he reportedly left home for a scheduled meeting with Detroit Mafia figure Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone.

Ozer declined to say who else was being called to testify, but he said no immediate members of the Hoffa family had been subpoenaed.

The scope of the grand jury probe came to light Tuesday during a hearing before U.S. District Court Judge Fred Kaess.

O'Brien's attorney, James Burdick, requested that a subpoena ordering O'Brien to appear before the jury on Tuesday, Sept. 2 be delayed two days because O'Brien is moving his family from Arkansas to Florida.

Kaess ordered O'Brien to appear Sept. 3.

Ozer declined to say whether he expects any substantial new evidence to come out of the grand jury.

Sources close to the probe said investigators did not have enough evidence in the Hoffa case to seek indictments at this time.

The sources said federal agents have found no trace of Hoffa since the former union boss disappeared from a restaurant parking lot in the Detroit suburb of Bloomfield Township.

The source said investigators are operating on the theory that Hoffa was ordered kidnapped and killed by individuals high in the Mafia because his attempt to regain union power threatened their interests.

The source added that investigators believe alleged numerous business dealings between the Teamsters and underworld figures might be soured by Hoffa's return to the union presidency.

Nigerian shot by 'accident' in Dallas

DALLAS — A Dallas city policeman killed a 28-year-old Nigerian foreign exchange student late Monday night in the mistaken belief that the victim was a suspect in the robbery of a drive-in food store.

A police department spokesman said Emmanuel Olajide Olatunji died about one hour after he was shot in the head by patrolman Clovis J. Williams. Olatunji was a student at the predominantly black Bishop College in Dallas.

Authorities said the policeman fired when he saw Olatunji reach into his jacket as if to draw a weapon.

Police gave this account of the incident:

Two blacks handed clerk Ina Jean Washington a note demanding money. One of the pair drew back his shirt to display a pistol in his belt.

The two fled after the clerk emptied her cash register of an undisclosed amount of money. They also took a carton of beer and a sack of potato chips.

A police car cruising nearby arrived at the store seconds later. Williams, 43, and patrolman Jeffrey Kirksey, 33, said a white couple appeared to point at two young blacks at a nearby gasoline station.

Kirksey leveled a shotgun and ordered the two "to freeze." One man complied. Olatunji ran and authorities said he made a move as if to draw a weapon from his jacket. Williams fired.

Later, the store clerk said neither Olatunji nor the other man were involved in the robbery.

The case will be routinely referred to a county grand jury.

UT students crowd campus, area police

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas students have struck a blow for mass transit.

Police issued some 750 parking tickets Monday as students returned to register for the fall semester.

"They were parked all over the place," said a patrolman.

Sixteen cars were impounded for parking at a bus stop on the campus main street.
