Ags plan no changes

By DAVID WALKER
Battalion Sports Writer

Offense, fumbles and LSU were the topics yesterday as Emory Ballard met the press at his weekly press conference.

The Aggie boss said that he didn't foresee any changes in the offensive starting lineup for Saturday's game with LSU unless there is an injury along the way.

"If there are any it will be because some of our fellas are a little stoved up now. Dennis Swilley has a slightly sprained ankle and Craig Glendenning has a bruised back but I'm sure they'll be ready for Saturday," Ballard said.

One scribe asked Ballard how many points the Ags would need in their contest with the Bayou Bengals. "You never know how many points you are going to need. Ten was good enough for Nebraska last week (Nebraska beat LSU, 10-7). You just never know when you'll need seven or when you'll need 30," Ballard said.

Also on the offensive side Ballard said that he was sure that the offense would perk up from last week's anemic showing in the Old Miss game. "I think our offense will be better this week, we've just got to start doing things better. We've got the potential to be a fine offensive football team and I think we will be," he said.

Ballard continued, "Our offense will be improved this week but LSU has a fine defense and they are going to be hard to score on no matter who lines up against them."

Ballard said that he thought the offense was getting a little unfair verbal punishment for fumbles. "I'm going to stand up for them a little. I've read in every paper where our offense fumbled five times, they didn't. Two of those fumbles came on punt returns and the offense shouldn't get blamed for those."

"David Shipman did a fine job at quarterback last week. I thought he performed really solid for his first college start, he had a couple of chances to get shakey but he never got shook and turned in a real solid performance," Ballard added.

"Offensive football centers around blocking and we're going to work on that real good this week,"

Ballard said. "Our offensive line didn't grade well in any token of the word last week but the people in the Ole Miss defensive line weren't dogs either."

Ballard said that the Aggies would have their work cut out for themselves this week when they face the LSU Tigers. "Every time you gain a yard against LSU you can bet your bottom dollar that you've earned it."

"LSU has a strong solid football team. They have an extremely large offensive line, fine receivers and Pat Lyons is doing a fine job at quarterback and Terry Robiskie is a good strong tailback."

Ballard also praised the Tiger defense. "Steve Cassidy and Adam Duhe are fine quality football players and they return two backs who were part time stars last year. They're just going through it," he said.

Besides Swilley and Glendenning on the Aggie injury list are Tom Thomas (ankle), Bulba Bay (bruised neck) and Tony Francis (ankle). All are expected to be ready for Saturday's 7:30 kickoff.

Brune's TD run honored

Associated Press

HOUSTON — Rice defensive back Larry Brune was a bit out of position and then hobbled the ball momentarily but to the credit of an 86-yard interception return for a touchdown against Houston last week was picture perfect.

Brune's touchdown run in the second quarter of the game between the crosstown rivals and hobbled Rice's lead to 21-0. Brune's TD run, along with his play during the rest of the game earned him the Associated Press Defensive Player of the Week honor.

"Actually, I was a little out of position, came up a little too quick," Brune, who also threw a key pass in the first quarter when Gary C. ran 70 yards with a punt for the first touchdown.

"I guess it was just instinct. Barney Norton tipped the ball and he just in the right place. I ran about five yards and then started hobbling the ball when I looked back to see anybody was close to me." Norton was close and after Brune got control of the slippery football, he untouched into Houston's end zone.

"I missed an interception similar to that against Texas last year and was thinking about that," Brune said. "The one against Texas would have been six points too."

In addition to his TD run, Brune's defensive coordinator Jack Westbrook credited Brune with seven tackles, including a touchdown-saving hit on Houston quarterback Bulba McCallan.

Rice Coach Al Conover is glad finally found a place for the versatile Brune to play.

"It took Larry three years to convince me he could play," Conover said. "He played just about every position and I had him on the scout team but he wouldn't stay there. He kind of typifies this team. They just won't give up."

Brune wasn't the only Owl defender to turn in an outstanding game against the Cougars. Westbrook rated the performance of defensive end Brent Barnes as that of Brune.

Barnes got five tackles and three more assists, caused one fumble and recovered another fumble in the Rice end zone and threw a key block on Cox' TD run.

"He got that fumble recovery because of his hustle and determination," Westbrook said. "He was blocked at the line of scrimmage and still recovered and got back there to the ball." The Owl defenders will test their 1-0 record against Vanderbilt this week and if Brune gets another chance like last week he'll save his backward glances until he reaches the end zone.
