Smith leads harriers

Headed by South African Bruce Smith, the Texas A&M Cross Country team outpointed three rivals to take first place in a quadrangular meet in Baton Rouge Saturday.

The Aggies had the low score of 39 points to win the meet, their first of the year. Alabama followed with 43 points while Houston and LSU had 46 and 93 points.

The point system is based on one point for first, two for second, three for third and so on. There were 27 places in all. As a man places his points are added to the overall team score to determine the meet winner.

Smith finished second in the meet with a time of 20:06. Charles Cottle and Kyle Heffner were fourth and fifth with clockings that were only a second apart. Cottle came in at 20:18 and Heffner at 20:19.

Jacob Yemme was the fourth Aggie in the top ten, finishing tenth with a time of 20:39. Manfred Kohrs was eighteenth at 21:20, Lance Mitchell twentieth at 21:46 and Walter Jachimowicz twenty-first at 21:49. "If you win the first one it means you can't lose them all," joked assistant Track Coach Ted Nelson. "Actually I was a little surprised that we won. I did think that we would run well. I thought at first that Houston had won, and so did the Alabama coach."

Nelson said that the victory was "a compliment to our runners" because of the fast pace. Jachimowicz's time would have been fourth last year. LSU's Tom Duple, who won the four-mile race two years ago with a 20:45, was only 12 seconds off that time this year but could not crack into the top ten finishers.

"Kyle (Heffner) really ran well. The two guys I was the most pleasantly surprised with were Kyle and Cottle," said Nelson. Cottle is the only senior on the cross country squad.

One of the keys to winning in cross country besides running well is to group a team's finishers as high as possible so as to get a low score and thereby force the opponent down. "We have a good chance to be a group running team," Nelson said. "No one ran poorly Saturday. The team roster is far from set. Nelson feels that freshmen Tom Wheeler and Tommy Glas have potential to contribute much to the squad. "We're going to be getting better as our personnel comes along," said Nelson.

A&M will travel to Houston Oct. 4 to run in another four team meet against Rice, Texas and Houston.

people + $ = energy
There's only one equation that will solve the nation's energy crisis... and that's to combine talented and concerned people, provide capital to get the job done and then set demanding, but realistic goals. That's what we're trying to do at Cities Service, a diversified natural resources company. Our activities run the gamut from copper mining to offshore drilling, from computer programming to refinery operation. We have opportunities not only in this country but abroad. Bateman and Ford get honors

By LEE ROY LESCHPER
Battalion Staff Writer

Archers from Houston and Bryan bowhunting clubs split top honors in the Texas Broadhead Championship Tournament last weekend.

The tourney, sponsored by the Bryan-based Brazos Bowmen Field Archery Club, drew 94 individual and thirteen team entries. Brazos Bowmen Treasurer Steve Mauritz said.

Three men, Earl Bateman, Sr., John Ford, of Houston, and Brazos Bowmen member Tim Burkner, of Bryan, tied for first place in the adult bowhunter event. Bateman earned first-place honors during a shoot-off round between the three, with Burkner and Ford taking second and third places, respectively.

In the adult sight division, Dr. Glenn Parker of Houston took first place with a tournament-high score of 217 out of 280. Bryan realtor John Culpepper won second place in the event.

Both youth-class first-place winners were following in their fathers' footsteps. Young Jack Culpepper led the sight division and Earl "Bubba" Bateman, Jr. earned top bowhunter laurels.

The Houston team of John Ford, Jodie Wolf, Mike McGarity and A. A. Bethea combined scores to garner the top team trophy, being presented for the first time this year on a rotating basis.

In conjunction with the Broadhead Championship, Saunders Archery sponsored a Sako Speed-Round archery contest Sunday. Houstonian Earl Bateman, Sr. added to his Broadhead Championship honors by topping about 100 speed-round contestants and winning the top share of over $1,500 in archery equipment.

Win two free tickets to the Cotton Bowl

The Battalion sports department is holding a contest to determine the exact time at which Bubba Bean will become the greatest all-time rusher in A&M history. The prize will be two tickets to the Cotton Bowl.

Contestants should put the game, the quarter, the minute, and the second they suspect Bean will cross the barrier.

Bean needs 381 yards to move ahead of Bob Smith.

All entries must be post-marked no later than Friday Sept. 26.
