Tech impresses Bellard

By DAVID WALKER
Battalion Sports Writer

"This is the first team that we've played that just throws back their ears and moves north with the ball."

That's the way Emory Bellard summed up this week's Aggie foe, Texas Tech.

The Red Raiders will enter the game with the undefeated Aggies with a 2-2 record. They won their first two home games over Florida State and New Mexico before losing on the road to Texas and Oklahoma State. The Aggies will be trying for the school's 400th career victory.

Bellard expressed concern over the two Texas Tech quarterbacks, Tommy Duniven and Rodney Allison. "Both quarterbacks are real good. Duniven is the better passer of the two and Allison is probably the better runner," Bellard said.

"This isn't to say that either of them isn't able to do both though," he added.

The quarterbacks aren't all that the Red Raiders have on the offensive side that worries Bellard. "They've got four good, strong runners too in Larry Isaac, Cliff Hoskins, Rufus Meyers and Billy Taylor."

Taylor is the big surprise for the Raiders this year. The 6-0, 211-pounder from San Antonio Jay has averaged 9.2 yards every time he's touched the ball this year. Tech offensive backfield coach Art Zeleznik says that he feels Taylor is on his way to being a great running back. "He's executing properly and hitting the holes quick, we are definitely going to try to get him the ball more," Zeleznik said.

And on the defensive side of the line the Red Raiders can be summed up in two words, Ecomet Burley. He was All-Southwest Conference and second team All-American last year. He moved to middle guard in the spring and Bellard feels that position change has in no way hurt the play of Burley.

After talking about the Red Raiders for awhile Bellard answered charges that the Kansas State players and sports writers weren't giving the Aggies any credit for last week's victory.

"You know that the team's getting stronger when the other team's start talking about moral victories," Bellard said.

"In my opinion there was no question who was the best team on the field last week and any way you look at it ten is more than zero and it's going to stay that way."

One Kansas State player told reporters after the game that "They (A&M) aren't in the class of the Big Eight," to which Bellard added,

"Well, all I know is that Texas A&M whipped Kansas State 10-0 and they can say anything they want to."

The Aggie boss announced one position change for Saturday. Frank Myers will be starting at right offensive guard for last week's starter Billy Lemons.

"Frank missed half of his freshman year with a knee injury and it had to be operated on. He was able to go through spring training, but he was never full speed but he has made excellent progress since this fall and deserves a shot at starting," Bellard said.

On the injury front the Aggies are relatively injury free. Only reserve fullback Bucky Sams is expected to miss the Tech game. He has a groin injury. Ronnie Hubby will start at fullback and will be backed up by freshmen George Woodard and Eddie Hardin.

Bryan maintains hold on No. 1

Associated Press

The Bryan Vikings shook off the frustration of having to forfeit three games with an impressive 28-12 victory over Killeen last week and easily retained their No. 1 rank in Class 4A of the Associated Press school-boy football poll.

The Vikings, now officially 1-3 under University Interscholastic League rules, joined Cuero in 3A, Cameron in 2A, Seagraves in A and Big Sandy in B, in holding onto their top billings.

Killeen, ranked third and unbeaten last week, fell to eighth this week after losing the Dist. 15-4A opener to Bryan, which forfeited after using an ineligible player in its first three games.

The only other Class 4A change this week involves Lufkin, which was tied by 3A Friendswood 14-14 last week and dropped out of the top 19. Houston Kashmere, 4-0, moved in as No. 10.

Columbia was a Class 3A casualty last week, losing to Houston Strake Jesuit 27-22 and dropping from fifth to 10th in the rankings.

McGregor and Breckenridge lost games last week and dropped from the Class 2A list. Breckenridge, No. 9, lost a close 20-14 decision to No. 5 Cisco and McGregor, tied for 10th a week ago, lost to Dallas St. Mark's 17-16.

Gorman's only loss was to DeLeon, ranked No. 3 in Class A.

Sundown, No. 5 in Class B, will get its biggest test of the season this week when it faces Seagraves, ranked No. 1 in A. Seagraves is averaging 30.2 points per game, has given up only 15 points in five games and registered three shut-outs.

Other teams contending for a place in the top 10 in each class included: 4A, Lufkin, San Antonio Churchill; 3A, Tuloso-Midway, Pecos, Liberty-Eylau, Navasota; 3A, Gladewater, Poteet, Alpine,
