

Missing art

After two weeks of display, two works from the Architecture and Environmental Design faculty show were reported missing. The works, Horseley's 'Synthesis '64' and Donaldson's 'Fantasy Composite — of faces, leaves and branches,' were reported missing Monday night. The theft in dollars terms adds up to grand larceny, but the artists would rather have the works back with no questions asked. The theft will prevent any future showings. The exhibit will remain in the Rudder Complex lobby until the middle of November.

Photo by Chris Svatek

ION Vack Williams

His role and position

he second in a series analyzing the inistrative bureaucracy of A&M.

By JIM JAMES

Who is Jack Williams and what does he

Dr. Williams was born in Galax, Va., in om 1947 until being named dean of the demson graduate school in 1957. He behe first head of the Texas Coordinating committee and was vice-president of ademic affairs at the University of Tenssee before assuming the presidency of

That's who Williams is, and it is consid- them," noted Miller. rably simpler than the explanation of his

He functions primarily as the coornator of the Texas A&M University Sysm, assimilating ideas and recommendaons and acting on them. He actually repreents A&M to the board and carries out eir recommendations for the system.

He also represents A&M as a public relaons symbol, much as a mayor represents a ty. It is important to remember that he

Employment up

AUSTIN — There was an eight per cent drop in Texas' unemployment for the month ending in mid-August, the Texas Employment Commission said Tuesday.

The TEC said the latest available figures show total unemployment at mid-August was 324,500 or six per cent of the state's labor force, compared to 6.5 in mid-July and 3.9 in mid-August a year ago.

The TEC said the reduction in the past month was primarily due to the withdrawal of summer jobseekers from the labor force.

must serve many different publics: the students, the board, the legislature, the taxpayers, the faculty and other administrators. He represents different things to the different groups.

Dr. Williams' own description of his job . to do that which enables and facilitates the real functions of a university such as teaching and research; to provide a quality environment in which to function.

It is difficult to talk with Williams because his schedule rarely leaves time for a student to just "drop by" or for that matter to make an appointment to see him.

Dr. Williams has three assistants to coordinate the president's office. One is Nelda Rowell who is the office manager and arranger of schedules and appointments.

Roger Miller, a 1972 A&M journalism 920. He received his Ph.D. at Emory graduate, has the responsibility of being niversity. He taught history at Clemson more or less a personal assistant, performing a variety of functions that need to be handled. He also acts as coordinator of the me vice-president in 1963. He served as Centennial activities. If a student has a problem for which no one else is willing to claim responsibility, Miller serves as an excellent source to complain to.

"My door is always open. The students should realize that we're here to help

The third assistant is Bob Cherry. It is his ob in essence to act as a lobbyist for the University and to serve as liaison between the president and regents.

During legislative sessions, Cherry spends a good deal of of time in Austin performing the dual function of answering legislators' questions about A&M and gathering information on bills that might affect A&M. He also orchestrates the activities and agenda of the regents.

'My job is pretty varied," Cherry said. "I work at the systems level, not just for the University. Two weeks prior to a board meeting I'll go over the agenda, getting everything ready.

"I also answer questions legislators might have. Today for instance we've been in contact with the Legislative Budget Board about some feed additives. I also do other things such as . . . well today I was talking to someone about the possibility of a substantial endowment for the Universi-

B-CS fund drives face consolidation

By PAULA GEYER Battalion Staff Writer

Having separate fund drives for the Bryan-Brazos County and the College Stations and acting on them. He actually represents A&M to the board and carries out their recommendations for the system.

Peters said it is hard to sell the United Way concept without the two drives being

The concept is combining fund drives for different organizations and agencies into one major drive.

This year the Bryan drive provides funds for 15 organizations in Bryan and Brazos of the same organizations with the addition of Community House, Inc., Community the College Station Recreation Council. Both the Bryan and College Station drives began on Sept. 15 and are expected to end Monday. Peters said it was "absolute confusion" for people working in one community and living in the other to contribute 'People just don't know which drive to give to," he said. Joe Sawyer, chairman of the College Station drive, said the leaders of the College

Station drive have no desire to consolidate the two drives "I don't feel it would be beneficial to ounty. combine the two drives because the people in College Station don't want to," Sawyer

He said overlapping wasn't a serious decide which drive to contribute to before called on by either campaign A futile attempt was made last year to consolidate the two drives.

This year the two united way agencies did discuss conducting the two drives at the same time, Sawyer said.

"This was quite a change from past years," he said, "because the two drives were previously run completely independent of each other.

So far the Bryan-Brazos County drive has raised about $115,000 or 85 per cent of the $135,295 goal as of Tuesday night and the College Station drive has raised $28,700 or 82 per cent of its $35,000 goal.

Texas A&M has contributed $17,937 to the College Station drive.

Weather

Che Partly cloudy and mild Wednesday and Thursday with light northerly winds 7-12 mph. High today 76; low tonight 54. High Thursday 79; low tomorrow night 60. Battalion

Vol. 69 No. 34

Copyright @ 1975, The Battalion College Station, Texas

Wednesday, Oct. 29, 1975

Vincent Broderick

Society's ills lead to crime

By PAM WHIGHAM

Poverty, inadequate housing, unemployment and lack of education create a society to which some people cannot conform and their nonconformity leads them into a life of crime, said Vincent Broderick Great Issues speaker, Tuesday night.

Broderick is a lawyer and former Police Commissioner of New York City. He served as Chief Assistant United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York and also on the General Council of the National Association of Investment Com-

To answer the charge that the United States is in the grip of an increasing crime greatly exaggerated the scope of crime.

Broderick said that one reason for the increased crime rate is that more records of crimes are being kept than ever before. The mass of population has moved into urban areas and more crimes are being reported because of the concentration of

Another reason for the increased crime rate is the increased coverage of crime by the news media. "The press has always reported the bad news," Broderick said. "Bad news is good news and good news is no

He said that television has brought into our living rooms crimes that happen in the cent of New York City homicides.

United States. Broderick said that the Watts riots in 1965 took place in every apartment, house and tenement in New York City and became incentive for riots in

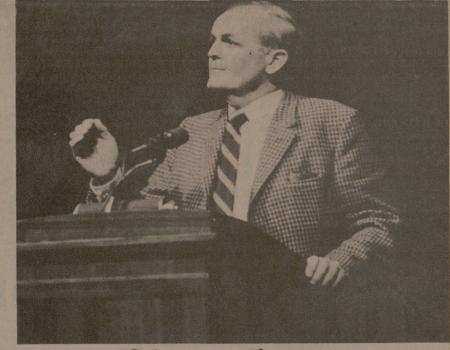

He believes that America could have an atmosphere of law and order by applying mass police presence in the streets, but that their presence in the streets would make the crime go elsewhere.

In New York City, 50 per cent of violent crimes (murder, rape, assaults) occur between family members. An additional 30 per cent is between friends and acquaintances. The majority of these crimes were committed inside buildings where there were no police.

Broderick said that to reduce crime people should look beyond police activity because the causes and solutions are elsewhere. The solution is to attack roots: the poverty, inadequate housing, inadequate employment and inadequate An attack of this type was started in the 1960s Broderick said, but it failed because of inadequate research before the solution program began.

Broderick said there is a need for a national gun registering and licensing system. This system should control the flow of guns to prevent guns from getting into the hands of criminals. Guns were involved in 80 per

Crime speaker

Vincent L. Broderick, a lawyer and former police commissioner of the city of New York, spoke last night on the role of police in the American Staff photo by David McCarroll

Campus

"THE SPIRAL STAIRCASE" and "Porait of Jennie" will be shown at 8 p.m. Vednesday in Rudder Theater as part of ggie Cinema's Classic Series.

APPLICATIONS ARE BEING TAKEN fill an off-campus graduate student and Davis-Gary, Moses and Moore senators in e Student Government office, Room 216 f the MSC. The Nov. 11-12 referendum rill read "Do you prefer this year's ticket location system or do you prefer last

A FALL DANCE featuring "Young Country" will be held at Lakeview at 8 p.m. Friday. Drinks will be available.

A HALLOWEEN DANCE will be held t DeWare Friday at 8 p.m. Proceeds will go to the freshman class treasury.

A HALLOWEEN PARTY featuring Halloween design projects will be in the obby of the Architecture Building Friday rom 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Oct. 31.

"LONGITUDINAL ORGANIZA- a complete list of contest rules and regula-TIONAL FIELD RESEARCH: Prospects and Problems" will be presented by John M. Ivancevich Thursday at 2 p.m. in Room 115 in the Old Engineering Build-

PHI ETA SIGMA members should pick up their certificaes in Room 237-D Zachry Engineering Center on Tuesday and Thursday at 8 a.m. to 1 p.m and 2 to 5 p.m. Members are needed for tutoring and can sign up in Room 237-D.

BONFIRE CUTTING begins at daylight Saturday. In order to cut, people using axes and chainsaws will need to attend a cutting safety class in the Animal Science Pavilion from 5 to 6:30 p.m. everyday this week except Thursday. Cars in the cutting area should be kept to a minimum. All personnel should ride out on trucks.

A DESIGN CONTEST is planned involving the construction of a balsa wood cube. An entry fee of $1 per contestant is required. Judging will be held Nov. 8 at 9 a.m. in the main lobby of the Zachry Engineering Center. All interested students should come by the Mechanical Engineering Offices on the second floor of Zachry for

THE A&M SWIM team needs girls to work exclusively with the team. Anyone interested in being interviewed for these positions should contact Mary Ann, 845-6080; Laura, 845-7280; Diane, 845-7064.

A CAMPING TRIP to Canyon Reservoir is planned for Nov. 1 and 2. There is a sign-up list at the Outdoor Recreation cubicle in room 216 in the MSC. An organizational meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday in room 607 in the Rudder

HAUNTED HOUSE will be held Tuesday thru Saturday at 7 to 11 p.m. located at Old College Road at College Main. Admission is $1.50 for adults, 50 cents for children

PSI CHI meeting will be held Wednesday in Room 308 in the Rudder Tower at 7:30 p.m. John Burkhalter will speak on bio-feed back and alpha-wave condition-

ENTRIES FOR THE ARTS COM-MITTEE Poetry and Fiction Contest must be turned to the English Department, Room 511 in the Harrington Education Center by Feb. 13, 1976. Cash prizes will be awarded: first place, $75; second place, $50; third place, $25. A brochure containing the rules and regulations is available in the Student Program Office. Students with juestions may call David McKissack at 845-1515, or Karen Zantow at 845-1631.

A SPECIAL HALLOWEEN PER-FORMANCE will be given. Loretta Fazino, Bill Hamilton, greg Unterberger a magician, a ghost story by Rob McGeachin, Larry and Cindy Humes, and Leon Blum perform Friday at 8 p.m. in the Basement Coffeehouse

Saturday, Don Sanders, a Houstonbased perform; Brad Brown; Bob French and Byrd Larberg will perform beginning at 8 p.m. Admission will b $1.

l exas

THE CITIZENS FOR THE TEXAS CONSTITUTION said in Austin yesterday that it has received contributions totaling $8,337 in its campaign to support the proposed Constitution. The campaign report said expenditures to date totaled $5,259.

DESEGREGATION of the Dallas schools filed motions yesterday asking that five suburban school districts be removed as defendents in the case.

Without giving any reasons for the action, the lawyers asked that Lancaster, De-Soto, Carrollton-Farmers Branch, Duncanville and Irving school districts be dismissed as defendents.

MAYOR CARLOS ROMERO-BARCELO OF SAN JUAN, P.R., told the Texas Municipal League in Houston yesterday that the Puerto Rican Separatists claiming credit for bombings in New York and Chicago are affiliated with Communist groups from other countries.

He said separatist movements have never been able to gain more than five per cy. He said he can't muster the votes to cent support from the people in Puerto Rico and that in the next few years, there will be a developing attitude for statehood.

National

totaled $975 million in September despite an upswing in oil imports, the government said in Washington yesterday. The surplus the practice of allowing food to be sent to

ATTORNEYS FOR THOSE SEEKING value of exports has exceeded the value of UNDERSECRETARY OF STATE CHARLES W. ROBINSON told the House International Relations Committee yesterday that the Soviet Union has refused to sell oil at discount prices to the United States in return for purchases of American grain and that any agreement on oil is probably at least two months away.

He also said he still expects the $1 billion-a-year American grain sale to the Soviets to boost U.S. food prices no higher than the 1.5 per cent originally predicted.

KEVIN B. HARRINGTON, president of the Massachusetts Senate, said in Boston Tueday that his state is close to bankruptincrease taxes and avoid fiscal disaster.

NINE INMATES AT GRANITE RE-FORMATORY in Oklahoma freed their ast two hostages yesterday and walked out of the kitchen where they had been holed THE NATION'S TRADE SURPLUS up for 251/2 hours, authorities said. The central issue in the disturbance was the Correction Departments' decision to halt marked the eighth straight month that the prisoners as Christmas presents.