Youth creates optimism on women's cage team

By DAVID WALKER Battalion Sports Writer

You can compare this year's Texas A&M Women's basketball team to the advertising slogan that we hear daily on TV. They aren't getting any older, they're getting better.

The Aggie squad is beginning its third year of competition this season and coach Kay Don feels that this will be the best team yet, even better than last year's zone champs who finished 24-9. "We're looking to do better this year," Don said. "We're going to be taller than last year with our only problem now being that some of our younger players are having a hard time adjusting from the six-player team rules to the five-player, full-court rules," she

The Aggies have five returnees from last year's team that won the zone championship and finished seventh in the state. Three of them were starters.

Cissy Auclair, Diane Quitta and Sally Morisse are the returning starters and will also be tri-captains this year. Dana Callaway and Cindy Horton are the other two returnees.

Other members of the team are senior Jane Jenkins, sophomore Bonnie Guedin and freshmen Eileen Roitsch, Margaret Byrne, Beth Mamaliga, Carol McAllister, Donna Parmer, Cindy Gough and Belinda

One of last year's starters, Karen Aulenbacher, transfered to Baylor where she will play for the Bearet-

Don says that this year's team will have no individual stars with the team concentrating on team work. "I'd rather have five people on the court doing an equal amount and working together than have one person doing all of the work," she said. "I've always hated having to rely on one player. If you have torely on one player and something happens to that one player, you're just sunk.

Don feels that her team can win the state championship, but it won't

"Last year's state champ, Stephen F. Austin, will be tough again and so will Baylor and Temple," Don said.

The Aggies open their season with Southwest Texas in San Marcos Nov. 19th. They will open at home December 1st against Temple Jr. College. That game will start at 5:45 p.m. and will be followed by the men's Aggie-Wayland Baptist

 WOMEN'S GOLF ***

Due to the illness of two of Texas A&M's women golfers, Brenda Goldsmith and Donna Goddard, the Aggies were forced to cancel out of the Houston Baptist University tournament this past weekend.

Goldsmith, winner of the Tucker Invitational in New Mexico last month, has mononucleosis and has been advised by her doctor not to

Goddard has a mild case of the flu and should return to action this

 WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

The Texas A&M women's cross country team will host a quadrangular meet at noon Saturday on the aerobics course next to G. Rollie White Coliseum.

Texas Tech, Cameron Track Club and East Texas State will join the Aggies in the 2.5 mile competition.

Running for A&M will be Sharon Boyle, Martha Sartain, Tanya Strong, Diane McCrady, Barbara Rowe and Karol Kuteman.

Going up
Coach Kay Don's women's basketball squad has begun workouts to prepare for the upcoming season. The women will meet San Marcos on Nov. 19.

WOMEN'S GYMNASTICS

Texas A&M's women's gymnastics team opens its 1975-76 season with a dual meet against TCU at 5 p.m. Friday at Bryan High School. Competing from A&M will be: Belinda Arnwine, Meg Maddux, Joan Marshall, Tina Martin, Lynn Sulak, Kevan Gunter, Lisa Milofsky, Claudia Sparks and Gail Stewart.

 WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL ***

The Aggie volleyball team takes a 22-11 record into the zone tournament in Huntsville Friday and

Coach Laura Kitzmiller's team is seeded first in the six-team tourney The Aggies play their first game at 7 p.m. Friday. Last weekend the Ags took second in the 19-team North Texas State Invitational in Denton. The Aggies knocked off nationally ranked TWU before losing to Texas Lutheran in the finals.

Women's Athletic Director Kay

Women's Athletic Director Kay Don announced the names of nine more women athletes who have been awarded scholarships at A&M. They are: Cindy Gough, Kim Bel-lamy and Mary Mock, all of Hous-ton; LaRita Fickey and Liz Zemanek, of Bryan; Belinda Gut-hrie, of Freeport; Diane Quitta, of College Station, and Shannon College Station, and Shannon Brundrett, of DeKalb.
