Repeat of championship possible says Metcalf

By DAVID WALKER
Battalion Sports Writer

It's only 13 days until the 1975-76 basketball season opens, and Aggie coach Shelby Metcalf feels that his team's chances of repeating their championship feat of last year are as good as any other team in the conference.

"The conference is going to be much more balanced this year than last year," Metcalf said. "I look for the conference winner to have as many as three or four losses."

Metcalf is pleased with the progress that his team has made through the early goings but feels that this year's Aggies are a little behind last year's team. "We've really got a problem because when we divide up to practice we spread the talent so thin that we can't really work good."

"We've got four seniors that play with more intensity than any group I've ever seen," Metcalf said. "We've got outstanding senior leadership, and you've got to have that to win championships. You won't see a team win a championship without it."

As for the seniors Metcalf feels that all of the seniors have improved. "Barry and Sonny and Ray have all improved noticeably," Metcalf said. Gates Erwin, the other senior, has missed two weeks because of a muscle tear.

"Barry's lighter and he's improved his speed and quickness. He jumped well last year, but he's jumping better this year. And he was aggressive last year, but he's more aggressive this year."

"Of course Sonny is like a Russian Cosmonaut, he's just out of this world. He can make some unbelievable moves and what's impressive is that in the same situation he will make different moves," Metcalf added.

The Aggie boss also praised senior co-captain Ray Roberts. "Ray is doing a fine job, like always. We're going to need to keep Sonny, Ray and Barry in the game as much as possible."

The starting lineup looks like this at this point for the opener with Wayland Baptist: Barry Davis at the high post with back-up help from Wally Swanson. The low post position is still undecided with a battle going on between Wally Swanson and Jarvis Williams, both freshmen.

"They will probably divide time there all year with Wally going more against a zone because he's a fine shooter and Jarvis going more when we're in a zone press because he's quicker," Metcalf said.

Parker and Roberts will start at the wings and will be backed up by Steve Jones and Joey Robinson. "All four of them are good shooters and they all have good speed on the press," the coach noted.

Freshman phenom Karl Godine will start at the point guard and will be backed up by Erwin.

"We played nine people last year and will play nine this year. Our top nine are good athletes and it wouldn't surprise me if our starting five by conference time is better than our starting five was in our conference opener last year," Metcalf said.

"There are a lot of good seniors around the league, and there are quite a few good newcomers. It should be very interesting. We need to play a game and get experience. And after we get going, I think we'll do all right."

The Aggies will play four home games in December. The Ags will host Wayland Baptist Dec. 1, Southwest Texas State Dec. 3, Houston Baptist Dec. 6 and Sam Houston State Dec. 9.
