Former students meet for weekend workshop

Former Students listened to a variety of speakers this weekend at the Association of Former Students Conference and Workshop, which one former student called "an informative good time."

Class agents, councilmen and class officers for the Association of Former Students discussed such topics as the influence of former A&M students in their local communities, proper ways of writing letters, and evaluation of the past year's class reunions.

John W. Caple, outgoing president of the association, was presented with a traditional cherry-wood chair while Mayo J. Thompson was presented the gavel as the 1976 president of the 77,000 member association.

In other business, Bob Miears, class of 1962 officer, called on the alumni programs to be directed toward youth since over half the alumni are from the class of 1965 or younger.

The former students were given a reception and dinner at the Ramada Inn and attended the A&M-Texas Tech basketball game. They also heard President Jack Williams give his State of the University Address and Dr. Henry Dethloff, associate

Rare volumes considered for millionth book

The A&M Library will purchase its millionth book this year, and four rare volumes are being considered by the Library Council.

"Purchas His Pilgrimes," by Samuel Purchas, is a five volume set written in 1625. The set was engraved by Henricus Hondius. It contains several woodcut illustrations, 86 maps, and is bound in tan calf. Captain John Smith's map of Virginia is in volume IV, while volume I contains the uncanceled map "Designatio Orbis Christiani." The volumes contain the account of voyages by English, Dutch, Spanish and Portuguese navigators. The set is in flawless condition and costs $3,250.

The second volume under consideration is "Prose and Poetry of the Livestock Industry of the United States," by James W. Freeman. Published in 1905, the book was the only issue printed. It deals with the origin and ancient history of livestock animals. Louis P. Merrill, a book collector, said, "It is undoubtedly the king of the book aristocrats in rarity, in

Lockheed Aircraft may lose Canadian contract

The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. is threatened with the loss of a $950-million Canadian order in addition to the $1.3-billion order Japan is reported to have canceled.

Canadian Defense Minister Richardson said Monday that the government may call off plans to buy Orion patrol planes from the Lockheed American corporation unless the firm can overcome its financial problems.

Richardson met with Lockheed officials and said the company's new board chairman, H. Haack, assured him a new financing arrangement could be expected this year. But "the difficulty has been resolved," Richardson said.

U.S. Comptroller General B. Staats told Congress last week that Lockheed's estimated profits for the next three years are not sufficient to repay all of the $250 million loans which the Nixon administration got Congress to guarantee by the end of 1978, and the company has already obtained the extension allowed it by the 1976
