Homer Adams

Homer Adams, 53, 205 Timber, owner of Adams Transfer and Storage Company. Councilman five years.

Homer Adams

Do you have any specific programs planned as a council member?

I just want to get these utility contracts finalized so that we will be assured of an adequate supply of water in the future and adequate electricity for our growth.

Are you in favor of extending liquor hours to 2 a.m. on weekends?

On first impulse, I am against it, but I will listen to their argument for it. It appears to me, talking to our police chief and liquor control members, that it would cause some additional problems for them.

Are you in favor of the construction of Millican Dam after the lignite coal is mined in the area?

I am in favor of the Millican Dam in that area.

Should College Station purchase its utilities from a source other than Bryan?

We're investigating other sources. I have no predetermined opinion. I think we have to do what is best for College Station.

Why are you running?

I had not intended to run until two members of the council with unexpired terms resigned to run for mayor. This would not leave a whole lot of continuity on the council which I think is very important at this time because of the utility contracts that are being considered.

Would you like to see College Station change to a ward system of election, as proposed in the referendum on the April 3 ballot?

I would like to see the ward system. I served under the ward system. I think it makes the people feel they have representation from their area rather than all the councilmen being from one area.

How do you think the ambulance service should be handled in Bryan-College Station?

I think it is being handled the way it should be handled, by private enterprise.

Do you have any specific programs planned as a council member?

The city should adopt a policy of strict adherence to existing zoning regulations. It's a matter of keeping the interest of the individual homeowner paramount in the minds of the planning and zoning commission and the city council when zoning requests come up. I think too much consideration has been given to the requests and so-called needs of the developers.

Are you satisfied with the enforcement of existing ordinances? Do you have any plans for new developmental controls?

I think they are being enforced pretty well. No, not other than what is covered in the existing ordinances.

Should College Station purchase its utilities from another source besides Bryan?

It seems to me that the city is going to have to work toward development of its own independent source of supply for these utilities. We would be better off financially in the long run to develop our own. The alternative now appears to be going with Gulf State's (a private firm). Their proposal looks very attractive in light of what Bryan is proposing.

Are you in favor of extending liquor hours to 2 a.m. on weekends?

I don't really have any strong opinion about it one way or the other. I wouldn't oppose it.

Are you in favor of the construction of Millican Dam after the lignite coal is mined in the area?

The thing that really caused me to run is zoning. That's something I feel

Candidates' Schedule

There are several opportunities this week for area voters to become more familiar with the candidates for the various city and county offices.

College Station City Council candidates will speak at political science classes on the Texas A&M campus Wednesday. The classes will be held in Bolton Hall, Rm. 301, at 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

The Environmental Action Council of Brazos County has invited all the candidates for the College Station and Bryan City Councils and for the county offices to speak at its monthly meeting Wednesday night. The meeting will begin at 7:30 in the Bryan Building and Loan building.

KAMU-TV (Channel 15) has scheduled four hour-long programs this week dealing with the candidates and the issues. All of these programs begin at 10 p.m.

The candidates for the College Station Council will be presented tonight, candidates for Places 1 and 2 on the A&M Consolidated School Board on Wednesday and candidates for Place 4 on the Consolidated School Board on Thursday. A Friday night program deals with the Bryan bond issue, the A&M Consolidated school bond issue and the College Station charter revision referendum.

America is an Equal Opportunity Employer

I've seen so much of both sides, I don't have an opinion of it right now. It's not something that I have a vital interest in.

Should College Station purchase its utilities from another source besides Bryan?

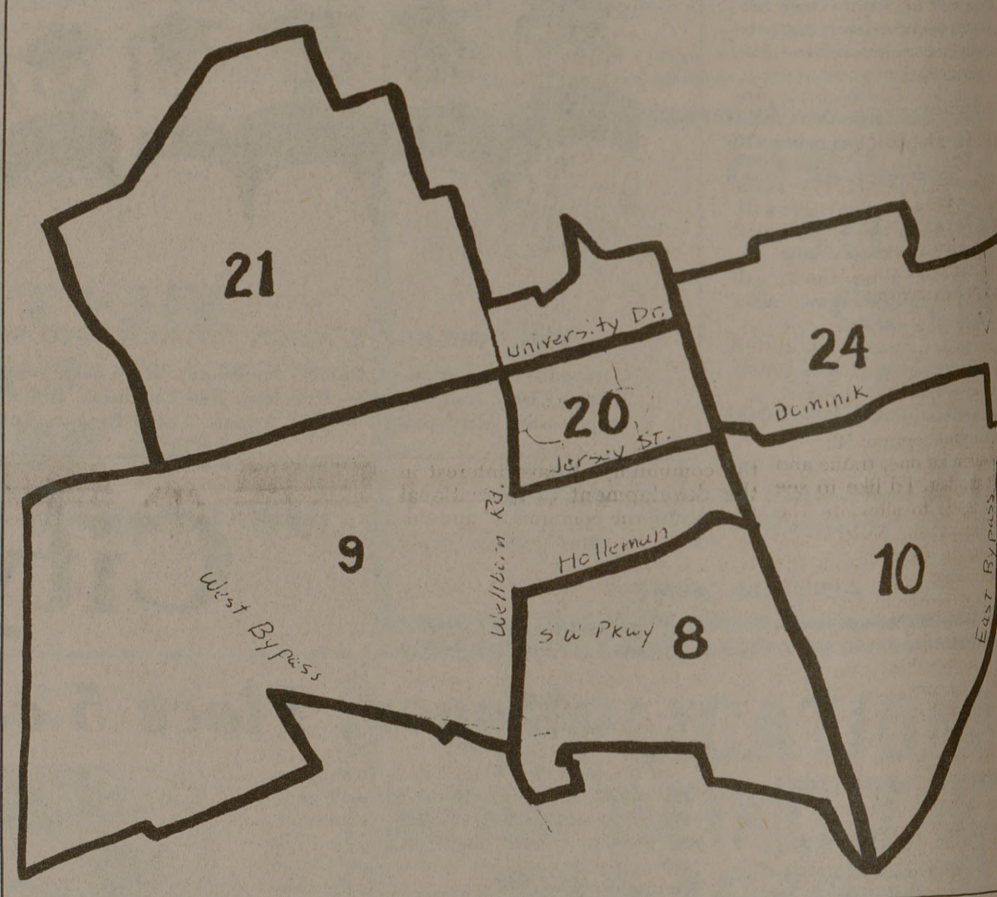

It seems to me that the city is going to have to work toward development of its own independent source of supply for these utilities. We would be better off financially in the long run to develop our own. The alternative now appears to be going with Gulf State's (a private firm). Their proposal looks very attractive in light of what Bryan is proposing.

Why are you running?

The thing that really caused me to run is zoning. That's something I feel

Are you satisfied with the enforcement of existing ordinances? Do you have any plans for new developmental controls?

There should be strict enforcement and perhaps even a revision of the building code to insure construction in these large, complex areas where apartment buildings are developed where they would have no adverse impact on residential areas or on traffic where it wouldn't overcrowd schools. I don't propose any regulations because I think there are regulations there for order.

College Station voters will elect five city council members, a mayor, three school board trustees, and decide on a proposed charter revision and a $6.4 million bond issue when they go to the polls Saturday.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the following locations:

- Precinct 8 South Knoll Elementary School
- Precinct 9 A&M Consolidated Special Services Building
- Precinct 10 College Station Fire Station
- Precinct 20 Texas A&M University Center
- Precinct 21 Old College Station Municipal Building
- Precinct 24 College Hills Elementary School

Voter registration to end Thursday

The deadline for voter registration for the May 1 presidential primary is Thursday. If you need to register or have not returned your registration form, you may do so until 4 p.m. at two locations on campus.

Student Government will accept the forms at their registration boards. These are located in the lobby of the Memorial Center and in the Married Student Housing Office.
