Jim Gardner

Jim Gardner, 55, 1216 N. Richfield, professor of urban and regional planning at Texas A&M. Councilman two years.

Jim Gardner

Do you have any specific programs planned as a council member?

There are a couple of general programs, one of which we're into but haven't done much on, and that is the general plan. We received the document over a year ago but it has yet to be reviewed thoroughly and receive any citizen input and therefore it has no official status. We should have some study sessions with public groups and adopt a plan, either this one or a modified version of it. That way we can make a better decision about zoning and other areas where we are now finding no document to guide us.

We will continue in a number of other areas also, such as programs to get off-street bike paths which is a multifaceted problem. We are making attempts now with a sort of interim program to have lanes on streets, which is not a satisfactory solution. I favor separation of bike lanes from automobile facilities and, of course, it all has to be integrated with the campus program.

I want to see an expansion of an ongoing review that we are making of developmental controls. We must look more closely at those that deal with the quality of construction of new apartments and commercial developments. I'd like to see initiated a complete review of our sources of revenue for financing municipal government. I feel we are probably placing too much emphasis on utility revenues and we need to seek better sources.

Are you in favor of extending liquor hours to 2 a.m. on weekends?

I'm not necessarily working for it but I see no reason why it shouldn't be done. I've lived in and visited other cities where these are the hours and I see no reason why College Station couldn't handle the same situation.

Are you in favor of the construction of Millican Dam after the lignite coal is mined in the area?

I'm not sure what the area would be like after the coal is mined but I hope it will be left in a reasonably good environmental condition. I have not been in favor of Millican reservoir up to this point and I don't see how the extraction of the coal would change my feeling on that. There are a lot of other issues involving the reservoir that have yet to be looked into such as the controlling of the land use around the reservoir and similar problems. Until there is an indication that someone is looking into these I would not favor the building of the reservoir.

Should College Station purchase its utilities from a source other than Bryan?

If a better contract than the one that's currently before the two groups should come up then I think we probably should. We should get our utilities — water, gas, and electric — from the most reasonable and reliable source that we can.

Why are you running?

I'm sure a lot of the reason is because of my background and experience in the profession of city planning. I've studied cities, and I've worked with a number of cities. I feel that I can contribute to our own community, particularly in this period when we are experiencing growth which has both problems and opportunities. I want to be sure that we take advantage of the opportunities to the extent that we can keep the problems from becoming large issues.

Would you like to see College Station change to a ward system of election, as proposed in the referendum on the April 3 ballot?

Not as proposed on the April 3 ballot. I do favor a modified system where part of the council would be elected at large and part by wards or districts. I was disappointed that the charter commission selected the more extreme proposal which may guarantee that it will fail at the box. I urge that this one be passed and that the council, in addition, put a more moderate up for early election.

How do you think the ambulance service should be handled, Bryan-College Station?

I think the present arrangement about as good as we can hope for at this point. When the county sizes where it is warranted, it should be public operated, expanded to improve the sophisticated treatment in the vehicles themselves. We have to improve our system as we can.

Are you satisfied with the enforcement of existing ordinance? Do you have any plans for new developmental controls?

Yes, (I'm satisfied) in terms of enforcement. No, in respect to zoning and detailed attention to construction activities. Some can be, and I hope, will be done.

I feel we need a provision zoning ordinance which would require a more detailed review standards of apartment construction and commercial developments need something more than assurance that these facilities are safe and that there will be adequate parking. I'm afraid that we are of shortsighted in providing some of the amenities which would be the developments a listing of these is also a need for this assurance that these kinds of developments will harmonize with zoning pattern of residential development. Also, with respect to continuing improvement, I look forward to a sign control ordinance.

myself and I know a lot of other people do. If you have anything else to do at home or any type of meeting to go to, by the time you get out it's almost closing time and everybody is out trying to drink all they can within two or three hours. And in that time a person will get high. A lot of people say that if you let it go until 2 a.m. the more drinking you are going to have, but I don't think so. I think 2 a.m. would probably be sufficient and would also keep the town alive.

Are you in favor of the construction of Millican Dam after the lignite coal is mined in the area?

Yes, in a way, I think we need it. A lot of areas don't have much water and we need it for the water supply. We definitely need the coal.

Should College Station purchase their utilities from a source other than Bryan?

I don't think so. It all depends on who is giving the better benefits. If the prices are better with someone else and they can furnish us, I think we should buy from them. I think we should save the money and I don't think Bryan would feel hard about us buying it from someone else.

Why are you running?

I would like to see a lot of change. I've been working around the city council for years. After I started working on the Mayor's Committee they put me on a government program for low income areas. Then I talked to a city councilman and asked him if he knew about the streets in certain areas and he said he just didn't know what they were like in College Station. After that I decided we really needed someone to speak for the people and speak for College Station as a whole. If you're on the city council you're supposed to go out and learn something about the streets and the community. If you don't appoint a committee to do it, do it yourself. There are a lot of duties that they don't perform that should be performed. I think College Station would be better off as a whole if we all work together and not just work in certain areas.

Would you like to see College Station change to a ward system of election, as proposed in the referendum on the April 3 ballot?

I think that College Station whole should work more with university and A&M Consulting. Anytime you're considering anything in College Station it's all three. One should always what the other is doing and should always work together. They are trying to get new bike new sidewalks they should be in together. There should be a committee with two people from city, two from the school board, two from A&M to get together knock heads and see what they come up with.
