Military orders curfew in Beirut

Associated Press
BEIRUT, Lebanon — The commander of the Beirut military garrison ordered a curfew today in the vicinity of the private mansion in which the Lebanese parliament is scheduled to meet Saturday to arrange the replacement of President Suleiman Franjeh.

Brig. Aziz Ahdab ordered the area cleared in an attempt to stop the sniper fire and mortar rounds which left-wing Moslem gunmen and their right-wing Christian foes 300 yards away have been trading for the past two days.

It was feared that if the firing continued the session could not be held. Christian members refuse to meet in the parliament building in downtown Beirut because it is in a battle zone controlled by Moslems.

Kamal Jumblatt, the leader of the leftist Moslems, pledged that his forces would stay out of the curfew area. But firing continued early today, and local newspapers said this led to a brief clash between radical leftists and their Palestinian allies on one side, and Palestinian guerrillas from the Syrian-controlled Saika group on the other.

The purpose of the parliament meeting is to adopt a constitutional amendment ending the president's term six months early so that the legislators can then elect another Christian who will agree to the Moslem majority's demand for more power.

With the sixth day of a 10-day cease-fire drawing to a close, police reported 22 persons killed in sporadic sniping and street clashes. More than 50 persons were reported kidnaped during the night, but police said most of them were released in swaps between Moslem and Christian gunmen.

France announced it is dispatching a former cabinet minister, Georges Gorse, to see what the French might do to bring the bitterly divided Lebanese together. It is the second French attempt at peace-making.

American envoy L. Dean Brown, who arrived March 31 on a similar mission, was accused by a Marxist Palestinian guerrilla leader Wednesday of "hatching vile conspiracies" to destroy Lebanon. Navef Hawatme, leader of the Popular Democratic Front, told a news conference Monday trying to manipulate differences between the Christians, Moslems and the Palestinians. "To consolidate American in the Middle East and facilitate rael's schemes against the Brown has been meeting with moderate Moslem as well as Christians, but so far avoided the Palestinians.

Slight food-price rise forecast

Associated Press
WASHINGTON — Retail food prices have moderated more than expected, and consumers may see only slight increases at least through midyear, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Instead of going up 1 per cent during the first three months of 1976, as USDA experts had been predicting since last fall, food prices held steady, Don Paarlberg, USDA director of economics, said yesterday. That meant, on the average, that consumers paid about the same for food as they did in the final quarter of 1975.

Further, Paarlberg said, food prices may only "increase slightly" in the second quarter of this year. He said the leveling off in the first three months was because of "unexpected gains in meat supplies," which dampened over-all grocery cost increases.

According to USDA records, the January-March leveling off was the first on a quarterly basis since the price index dropped slightly from the third to the fourth quarter in 1975.

Paarlberg cautioned that "some seasonal price increases" are expected in the coming months for fruits, vegetables and coffee. Also, he said, the farm price of livestock is expected to go up.

"But a trend toward smaller farm-to-retail price spreads for meats might lessen price increases to consumers," Paarlberg said. "Farm prices of food have been declining since last fall. However, farm-to-retail price spreads for livestock are still relatively wide, even though the spread has narrowed in recent months."

The price spreads are what middlemen tack on to food costs for transportation, processing and selling.

Paarlberg said that if the trend to smaller spreads continues, "it will limit retail food price increases." That would help slow the rise in living costs.

Department experts said they cannot predict what will happen to food prices after mid-year until more is known about 1976 crop prospects.

Census may be every 5 years

Associated Press
WASHINGTON — Americans would be asked to fill out national census forms every five years in order to supply the government with more up-to-date population figures, according to legislation moving through Congress.

Citizens who refuse to answer the census questions would not be subject to penalties under the measure passed by the House yesterday.

The Constitution requires a census every 10 years, but one has been taken every decade since 1790. The House passed a bill to establish an additional census at the middle of every decade, beginning in 1985.
