The theme of Dunn's trip seemed to be that the Richard Dunn who will fight Ali is the Ruopean heavyweight champion and the winner of seven link when an interviewer straight fights, five by knockouts, and not the man who was knocked out three straight times in 1974.

The third of those knockouts, in four rounds by Jose Urtain of Spain, almost forced the 31-year-old Dunn out of the sport which he loves to the point that he worked out at night after laying bricks all day and trained for many fights without the benefit of sparring partners.

"Just after I got beat by Urtain, I came home and said to Janet (his wife), 'I'm up to here. I can't take any more.' Janet said, as she's said so often, 'You've got to go on.' "

'Stop being a coward," said Janet, whose father, Jim, trains Dunn and who has two brothers who are fight-
