

Coaches clinic opens; Astros win millennium

The 44th Annual Texas High School Coaches Association clinic got underway this week with what has become a familiar occurrence. For the 14th consecutive year, the registration record fell as over 7,000 individuals signed up to attend this year's school.

Included amongst those numbers is the Texas A&M coaching staff, having departed for Houston last Sunday.

The clinic will continue through tomorrow, concluding with the high school all-Star football game at 7:30 p.m. in the Astrodome.

The Aggies will have eight representatives in the contest, four each on the North and South squads. Playing for the Rebs will be David Brothers of Seguin, Paul Hagerty from Corpus Christi Carroll, Ken Rollins from Bishop and Johnnie Svatek from Wharton. The Yankee squad will include Bryan's Curtis Dickey, Zach Guthrie of Tyler, Ed Pustejovsky out of Spring Branch and James Zachary from Midland.

The all-Star basketball game will highlight tonight's activities with the tipoff at 7:30 p.m. in Hofheinz Pavilion. Aggie recruit Steve Sylestine (6-4) from Clear Lake is slated to play for the South squad.

Texas A&M's football brochure is now available at the Sports Information Office and local bookstores. The centennial edition is 112 pages long and includes facts, figures, statistics and in-depth information on the Aggies and their 1976 opponents. The booklet sells for $2.

Texas A&M fans got their first glimpse of how a pair of former standouts are faring in the pro ranks this weekend. Ed Simonini and Garth Ten Napel both saw considerable action as the pro football exhibition wars were initiated. Simonini played for the college all-Stars in their rain-dominated efforts against the world champion Pittsburgh Steelers. Ten Napel debuted with the Detroit Lions in the Hall of Fame Game against the Denver Broncos. Denver won the game 10-7. Simonini will report to the Baltimore Colt training camp this week for the first time. The ex-A&M linebacker great was a third round pick of the Colts.

The Aggies have received some high acclaim thus far by the pre-season prognosticators. Street and Smith's magazine has the Aggies rated 13th nationally while several other college football magazines also rank the Ags in the Top Twenty.

One bit of irony out of the state capitol. No University of Texas athletes are reported to be on the legislative payroll this summer, perhaps due to the controversy which surfaced last autumn. Apparently Texas legislators want to keep their hands clean, after all, this is an election year.

During the ABC telecasts of the XXI Olympiad, one should pay particular attention to their features on East European athletes. Many are seen practicing their sport, but no mention is made of their occupations. The American commentators have politely refused to mention the subsidizing of these athletes by their governments. Despite this fact, the athletes are able to maintain an amateur status. It's fairly reasonable to conclude that there is no version of the NCAA behind the Iron Curtain.

The Astros played their 1,000th game under the roof of the Astrodome last Monday night, celebrating the occasion with a 7-0 win over the San Padres. Fittingly the win was by Larry Dierker, the only player to have survived Houston's pains. Dierker pitched a shutout to go along with his no-hitter two weeks ago.
