

Activities get funds. . .

The following is a list of funds that have been allocated to various student organizations from the profits of the A&M Bookstore. In order to obtain funds for next year, clubs should apply during March, 1977, at the Student Finance Center. Sports organizations are financed by the Student Services fee.

Cepheid Variable members see creatures at sci-fi con

Nine students from Texas A&M received a heavy dose of strange creatures and fantastic worlds last weekend when they attended the 8th World Science Fiction Convention in Kansas City, Mo.

could buy anything from Star Trek posters to electronic bow ties. The guest of honor at the convention was Robert A. Heinlein, a highly respected and popular author. His speech to the delegates drew a large crowd but met with mixed emotions in the A&M group. Don Cravens, Cepheid Variable member, said that Heinlein did not use any notes or the public address system. Cravens added, "The speech was a little rambling, but for a man who's 69 years old, it was pretty good."

—John W. Tynes

The students, all members of Cepheid Variable Science Fiction and Fantasy Committee, attended banquets, watched science fiction movies, and attended writing seminars conducted by prominent science fiction authors.

A favorite spot for the delegates was the dealer's room, where they
