Aggies defeat Baylor 72-57

By PAUL ARNETT
Battalion Sports Editor

The Aggie basketball team is like a bottle of burgundy wine... they just keep getting better with age.

Overcoming a slow first half, the Aggies limited Baylor to just 23 second half points en route to a 72-57 Southwest Conference victory.

"We played hard," coach Shelby Metcalf said. "In the second half we had an outstanding defensive effort. The reason they got ahead in the first half was because their shot selection was better than ours."

The Bears shot a cool 54 per cent in the first half, hitting many open shots off the fast break. Guard Larry Rogowski found himself open the entire first half and led the Bears to a 30-20 lead with five minutes remaining in the first half.

Metcalf called a badly needed time out and by the end of the first half the Ags were only down by four.

"They played a good first half," forward Wally Swanson said. "We played with more intensity in the second half."

Swanson played his best game all year, scoring 16 points and grabbing 15 rebounds. The sophomore from Illinois is second in the conference in rebounding and should be first after tonight's game.

"Wally really played a good game for us," coach Metcalf said. "His play underneath the basket was a key to our victory."

Another key for the Aggies was big bad Willie Foreman. Foreman finished the night as the leading Aggie scorer canning home 20 points. The forward from Houston had two slam dunks and three rolling hook shots which brought the crowd to its feet every time they went in.

"I started playing my game in the second half," Foreman said. "I played real physical because Baylor is a tough team. They should have a better record because they are real good."

The Bears have now lost seven of their last eight games, and seem destined to finish in the bottom five of the conference. This is a real surprise since many writers felt that they would finish close to the top.

"Changing coaches and losing Tony Rufus had to hurt them," Foreman said. "They're as good as they were when we played them in Waco."

Swanson added his why the Bears were why the Bears were this demise.

"Baylor is basically the way we played in Waco," Swanson said. "I guess we beat them last night because it's so much to play a team on your home court."

The Aggies finished their work averaging 48 per cent in the field. The Ags also had 10 grabbing 10 more career Bears.

A&M's next game is this night against SMU. The need to win this game remain in firm control of the place slot. The Mustangs night to Texas, and need they want to finish in the top five.

"We're looking for a second finish," Steve Jones said. "It will be a tough contest."

No progress in negotiation

United Press International

WASHINGTON — The pro football owners and players resumed bargaining again today on a slightly more pessimistic note but still striving for a settlement of their marathon contract dispute.

A four-hour secret negotiating session Tuesday resulted in a "no progress" report from the NFL Players Association and the owners' Management Council but both sides agreed to meet again for the second day in a row to try narrowing their differences.

A union spokesman said the bargaining team for the players led by President Dick Anderson of the Miami Dolphins and NFLPA Executive Director Ed Garvey was a little disappointed that the Tuesday meetings produced little progress toward a contract breakthrough. Terry Bledsoe, a spokesman for the owners, declined to characterize the results of the four-hour negotiating session.

Before the Tuesday meeting began, Garvey observed "by Wednesday night, we should know what issues separate us. Hopefully there will be a lot fewer than now." Union vice president Len Hauss of the Washington Redskins said "we're optimistic we can come to an agreement."

Sources said however seemed to be seven issues on the table to end the year impasse that has prompted player strikes and a series of cases ending in adverse against the owners.
