Johnny Jones is coming to town

By PAUL MCGRATH
A year ago, Johnny Jones was a highly recruited running back and sprinter at Lampasas High. By August he was a widely acclaimed Olympic gold medalist. Now, he just runs track for the University of Texas.

Johnny "Lam" Jones will lead Coach Cleburne Price's squad against Texas A&M in a dual meet this Saturday at Kyle Field to open the outdoor season for both schools. The women's teams from both schools will also compete.

The field events will start at 1 p.m. and the running events will begin at 3 p.m.
Jones, who was sixth in the 100-meter dash and ran on the winning

United States 400-meter relay team at Montreal and who started at halfback for the Longhorns during the fall, may compete in the open quarter, the sprint relay and mile relay.

In addition to Jones, the Longhorns will field another Olympian in miler Paul Craig. Craig represented his native Canada at Montreal, competing in the 1,500-meter race. He won the Southwest Conference indoor mile two weeks ago in 4:10.5.

Texas, the defending outdoor champ, lost much of the strength it had in the field events, an area where the Horns scored 70 of their 119 crown winning points last year. Gone are pole vaulters David Shepard and Frank Estes and weightlifter Dana LeDuc and Jim McGoldrick who scored the bulk of UT's points in the field events.

Texas' best hope in the pole vault, freshman Mark Herns, has yet to clear 16-0 feet and their top shot putter, Rob Robinson, failed to place in the conference indoor meet.

The Horns' status in the long jump is unknown, but high jumper Terry Davenport should help UT save face in his specialty. Davenport placed second in indoors to Baylor's stellar jumper Kevin Delorey.

The Aggies of Coach Charles Thomas will be hampered by injuries to several key athletes. Tony Wheeler, the SWC half mile chamion, is out with an injured achilles tendon and hurdler Curtis Collier will also miss tomorrow's meet because of leg problems.

Pole vaulter Brad Blair, indoor conference and regional champ, will compete despite an injured heel. He and teammate Pat Reuhle have cleared 16-0 feet with Blair having gone 16-6 feet last weekend.

Frank West, Randy Scott, Tim Scott and Craig Carter will compete in the shot put. Steve Stewart, and both Scotts will throw the discus and Mike Newsum, Stewart, Carter will compete in the javelin.

Lynn Byrd, who has cleared seven feet on three occasions, will compete in the high jump. Riggs and Ron Keys are slated for the high jump and freshman Jamerson, Shifton Baker and Steen will compete in the 100-meter dash.

Johnny Jones

Baker is scheduled for a workout tomorrow as he will run in the sprint relay, 130-high hurdles and 440-yard hurdles races.

Aggie sprinter Chuck Butler will prove his versatility by running the 100- and 220-yard dashes in both relays. Ray Brooks, sprinter, will compete in the 220 and sprint relay.

Freshman Mark Gauger will make his debut in the 800-meter dash along with teammates Brannen, Tom Glass and Ed Lane Mitchell and Joel Voigt.

Team captain Manfred Lane and Kyle Heffner will run the three-mile. Karl Riggs and McGonigle will run the open 5-mile.

The results of the meet may be determined by the amount of points A&M obtains in the events as both relays might go to Longhorns, although both are fairly even in the other events. An A&M victory in the sprint relay, rated a tossup, will give the Aggies a decisive edge.

Aggies defeat Owls 79-61

By PAUL ARNETT
Amidst paper cups, ice, lunch sacks, frizbees and even a straw hat, Texas A&M defeated the Rice Owls, 79-61. The victory assured the Aggies of at least a fifth place tie in the Southwest Conference (SWC) chase.

The crowds at Autry Court have been known to launch foreign matter onto the court, but last night they outdid themselves. Every time the officials made a call the crowd didn't like, here came a barrage of garbage.

Despite the adverse conditions, the Aggies played well enough to capture their eighth SWC victory against six defeats. They were relaxed and in complete control throughout the contest.

"It was nice to play a ball game that lacked emotion," coach Shelby Metcalf said. "We've had so many tough ball games the past couple of weeks that I'm glad to see a game like this one."

Steve Jones, the Aggies leading scorer, summed the game up in this manner.

"We knew we were going to win when we stepped out on the court,"

Jones said. "All that was in doubt was what the final score would be. We sure needed this one to help us prepare for Houston."

Jones scored 20 points, grabbed five rebounds and had three assists in leading the Aggie attack. The senior from Houston Wheatly almost played the entire game.

Wally Swanson was second in scoring with 19 points, and first in rebounding with eight. It was the best game for Swanson this year.

"I felt good out there," Swanson said. "The only problem was I missed a lot of lay-ups. The best part of our game tonight was our press."

The Aggie press caused the Owls to turn the ball over in the back court eight times in the first half. After the first 20 minutes of play, the Ags were leading 41-22.

The second half opened up with Rice hitting almost every shot they attempted. Darden Elbert played well the final 20 minutes and finished the evening as the game's leading scorer with 21 points. Behind his strong outside shooting the Owls cut the Aggie lead to seven, with five minutes remaining in the game.

The Aggies countered the Owl surge by stalling the final minutes of play. Forced to make the Aggies move the ball, Rice ended up fouling the Aggie players. Joey Robinson, Brian Barrett, Jones and Swanson all went to the foul line and made their free shots.

A&M hit 84 per cent from the charity stripe and 42 per cent from the field. The Owls hit 48 per cent of their shots from the field, while connecting on 56 per cent from the foul line.

The Aggies next game is tomorrow night against the University of Houston. If the Ags defeat the Cougars, then they are assured of playing at G. Rollie White when the play-offs begin. A&M defeated the Cougs last year at Hofeinz Pavilion 94-80, and you can be sure that they will want to avenge that defeat.

Tip-off is at 7:30 p.m. Plenty of good seats are still available.

Wrestlers defeat Richmond College

By STEVE MARTINDALE
On the strength of three pins and two forfeits the Texas A&M wrestling club beat Richmond College 30-19 Thursday night in preparation for this weekend's Southwest Conference Tournament.

Richland won the other five matches but could only pick up one pin, winning the other four by decisions.

Both a pin and a forfeit are worth six points toward the team total while a decision is usually worth three. Richland had one four point decision win.

The Aggies, now with a 12-2 record, and Richland will join most of the other SWC schools and some other Texas colleges in Austin today and tomorrow for what has been dubbed the Southwest Conference Tournament.

Actually, since the conference has not accepted wrestling as a varsity sport, the tourney can not produce a conference champion.

Jack Cliff, Jay Clements and Blair Monhollon picked up the pins for the Aggies and Bob Hines and Richard Lynn received forfeits.

Aggie Rick Vigue lost by a decision to Lefect Cambell, 7-6, in the 118 pound division. Vigue will enter the tourney today as the state's top seed and Cambell will be in the No. 2 spot.

"Even if Rick loses to Cambell he'll be the state's top seed," Aggie coach Jim Giunta explained prior to the match. "Rick's already beat him twice this year. In the tournament, they'll have it arranged so it will be possible for them to meet in the finals if they both keep winning.

The tourney is run off bracket style, like a tennis or basketball tournament. Giunta said.

Bob Hines' forfeit win came in the 126 pound division.

Richland's Barry Hyder cisioned Aggie Bob Beneventi in the 134 pound match.

Hyder has been a problem for Aggies all year, defeating 44 wrestlers in the 126 and 142 pound categories at earlier dates.

With the team totals tied at the Aggie Jack Cliff pinned Brian Ashby in 4:37 in the 142 pound division. Richland countered that, gave another decision in the 150 pound class. Kent Southerland defeated Tim Caulton 7-5.

Jay Clements gave the Aggie nine point lead by pinning Harred. He won the 158 pound match in 6:16.

Lanky Blair Monhollon added more to the spread with the individual Aggie pin of the evening. Heritage of the 167 pound division in 7:26.

Jack Lynch, a non-regular A&M, stepped up to help out in the 177 pound class and did so with a couple of points. He lost to Mecca in a decision, 10-0.

Jerry Warwick, another that volunteered to help in their man shortage, didn't do quite as well. He lost to Ron Zeno in the 190 in 3:32.

Richard Lynn picked up the A&M points in the unlimited division with a forfeit win.
