Longhorns win again

By DEBBY KRENEK
 Battalion News Editor

The Aggies' desire for revenge was not enough to overcome the height of the Texas women's team, as the Longhorns won the rematch 80-74.

Texas' 5'8" Pat Mokenna, 5'10" Retha Swindell and 5'8" Kim Bassinger put together an inside passing game that A&M was unable to defend.

"The Longhorns were working their screens very well and with their extreme height, those screens were hard to overcome," coach Kay Don said.

The Longhorns led the Aggies by as much as 14 points until Texas in their second string. The Aggies closed the gap to six with 29 seconds remaining in the game, but time ran out before they had a chance to get off another shot.

"The Longhorns were quick, but we were usually able to keep up with them," Coach Don said. We played very aggressively and made up for our lack of height with hustle.

The Aggies shot only 33 per cent of their field goal attempts, but hit on 71 per cent of their free throws. Texas shot 52 per cent from the floor and 62 per cent from the line.

Sally Morris and Pat Bond led the scoring for the Aggies with 16 points apiece. Karen Musket and Cindy Gough each turned in a double-double. Margaret Byrne has 9, Cindy Gough had six, and Susan Kimball had five.

Three Texas starters accounted for the majority of the Texas points and Linda Andrews, 20.

This loss brings the Aggies' record to 12-14 which earned them a third place ranking in the Zone Tournament to be held this Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Houston.

The Ags meet Prairie View on Thursday, Feb. 24, at 7 p.m. Thursday. If they win, they will play Houston Friday at 7 p.m.
