Brazos County A&M club gets appointed officer

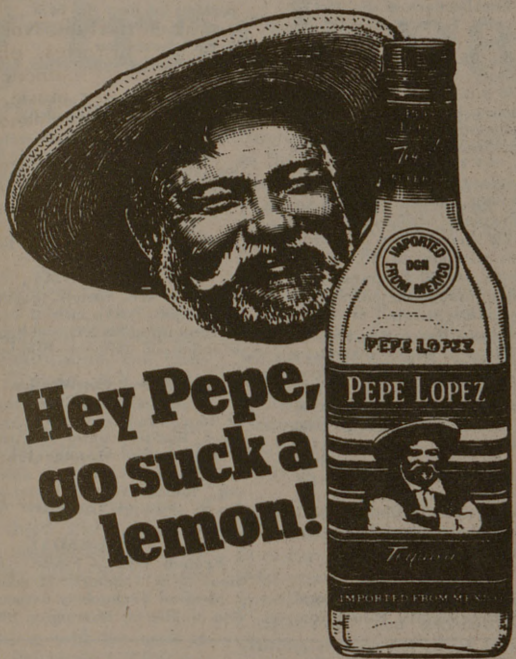

John A. Adams has been appointed activities vice president of the Brazos County A&M Club.

Adams is a former staff assistant to the commandant at Texas A&M University.

He succeeds the recently-elected Mike Goeken, who accepted new employment. Club President Malon Southerland said Adams' appointment was approved by the board of directors. The new activities vice president works for Meiller Research Inc.

Next Tuesday's meeting, at the Texas A&M party quonset hut, will feature Adams' former boss, Col. Thomas R. Parsons. The commandant and professor of military science will speak on some of the lighter moments of his six years in the Trigon.

Socializing begins at 6:30 p.m. and dinner is at 7:30 p.m. Reservations should be made with Pat Gersbach at 845-7514.

AN OUTBREAK of red and German measles that began before Christmas in Houston now totals more than 380 cases, in a second big wave of the epidemic. Red measles can cause mental retardation in complicated cases, and German measles in pregnant women can cause fetal defects.

ATTORNEY GENERAL John Hill returned yesterday from Mexico with a list of crimes Mexican officials need help in investigating. At the top of the list is finding a Matamoros policeman who extorted $14,000 from an American. While in Mexico, Hill visited four young American women who have been held in a Mexican jail for three years, convicted of bringing cocaine into Mexico. Hill said they should be brought home because they had been punished enough due to emotional experiences.

AN AUDIT of the Howard Hughes estate has been started by the Texas Comptroller's Office. The state wants to collect taxes on the estate, and Comptroller Bob Bullock said he had assigned more than a dozen staff members to the task he described as "such a big job it's almost like creating another division."

VELSICOL, a chemical corporation in Houston where 10 pesticide workers suffered nerve damage that prompted a federal investigation, has been cited for leaking chemicals into nearby ditches. The Environmental Protection Agency citation issued yesterday gives the company 90 days to correct the problem or face possible court action. Investigators said the nerve-attacking pesticides were washing out of the suburban Bayport plant into surface water.

COLLEGE COSTS will be pushed up eight per cent by inflation, heating and salary costs by September — giving parents the biggest college bills in history. Authorities estimate $100 of every bill is to cover the cost of complying with paper work required by the Federal government. State-supported schools on the average billed resident students $1,797 for tuition, room and board last year; non-resident ones, $2,680.

ROMAN POLANSKI, 43, was indicted yesterday on six counts of drugging and raping a 13-year-old girl at actor Jack Nicholson's house in Los Angeles. The indictment, made by the County Grand Jury, could send the director of "Rosemary's Baby" and other macabre movies to prison for 50 years.

A 16-YEAR CHILL in relations between Cuba and the United States appears to be warming a bit with the disclosure yesterday that direct U.S. negotiations with Fidel Castro's regime are going on in New York. The talks, involving offshore fishing limits, are the second Carter gesture toward Cuba in less than a week. On March 18, Carter ended the 16-year travel ban for Americans going to Cuba, Cambodia, Vietnam and North Korea.

FIVE FAMILIES, victors in a landmark court struggle against their children's religious preference, have 30 days to legally use deprogrammers to woo the young adults, ranging in age from 21 to 26, away from Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church.

THE FAMILY of assassinated Congolese President Marien Nguabi denies it plotted Tuesday night's slaying of Brazzaville Archbishop Cardinal Emile Biayenda. Authorities said they have arrested three members of Nguabi's family charged with kidnaping and killing the cardinal. But in black Africa, the word "family" can refer to a tribal link as opposed to a direct blood relationship.
