Big track names in Dallas

By PAUL McGRATH
Battalion Staff
Coach Charles Thomas' track team faces its toughest challenge of the year as the Aggies compete today in the Dallas Invitational.

The Tennessee Volunteers feature one of the nation's top sprinters in Reggie Jones. Jones ran a 10.0 in the 100-meter dash at Dallas last year and also anchored the Vols' winning 400-meter relay team, timed at 40.0.

The Texas Longhorns also have a Jones who is fleet of foot — Johnny "Lam" Jones, who ran in the Montreal Olympics. Jones has run a 9.21 in the 100-yard dash and a 46.9 in the 440-yard dash, both times currently tops in the SWC. He will probably run the 100 and anchor both of Texas' relay teams.

The mile relay may provide the opportunity to see the race many fans have hoped for this year — a 440-yard duel between Johnny Jones and Mark Collins of Baylor. Collins is the defending SWC champ in the 440, but is now concentrating mainly on the 880-yard run. He ran 45.9 quarter last spring and has done a 47.2 this season.

Both athletes anchor their respective mile relay teams, thus the pair will be going head-to-head for the first time this year.

Another key match-up will be A&M's Shifton Baker, Texas' David Nelson and Kansas' Nolan Cromwell in the 400-meter hurdles. Baker, who competed in the Olympic trials last summer, owns the best SWC mark in the event thus far, 51.56 and has a career best of 50.8 seconds.

Nelson won this event in last year's meet and is the defending SWC champ, also having a best time of 50.8. Cromwell, the Jayhawk quarterback when he dons pads, is one of the nation's best intermediate hurdlers however, he finished second to Nelson at Dallas last year.

The Aggies, having won their last two meets by scoring a bevy of points in the field events, should fare the best of the conference schools competing. Pole vaulter

Brad Blair, having cleared 16-8 this spring, should be one of the favorites.

Baker, making his senior season his best yet, will also run the 110-meter high hurdles. His main competition will come from Davy Duncan of Baylor, whose best time of 13.4 compares to Baker's best of 13.7.

Sprinter Ray Brooks, who ran a 21.2 in the 220-yard dash last week, will be one of the top competitors in that event. Brooks, who has never run the 440 at A&M, may do so tomorrow in the mile relay. He ran a 48.5 in practice two weeks ago and was slated to run a mile relay leg in the College Station Relays, but didn't get the chance as A&M compiled a comfortable lead and failed to enter a fourth runner.

The prelims for the running events and the field event finals will start at 9 a.m. tomorrow with the track event finals starting at 2:45 p.m.

HOW TO GET A LIFETIME SUPPLY OF LONE STAR LONG NECKS FOR 84¢.

It's a pain to come up with that 84¢ deposit on your first case of Lone Star Long Necks. But you're home free on every other case you buy.

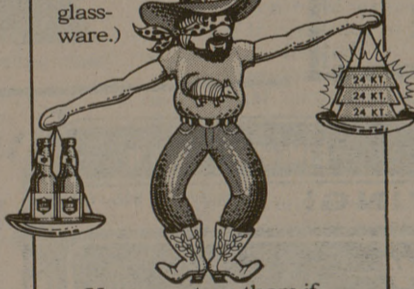

You know what this means? A never-ending supply of the legendary Long Neck bottles. Forever. Perpetually. For time. For time.

You can pass them on in your will just like your other worldly possessions.

You can consider them a hedge against inflation. (Instead of putting your money into gold or silver, you shrewdly got into glass-ware.)

You can return them if you want to rub your nickels together again.

But you'll probably want to bring them back to the place you bought them. This way you can end up with something even more valuable than a case of Long Necks.

A case of Long Necks full of Lone Star Beer.

The Teachings of Jose Cuervo.

(as excerpted from Chapter 27 of The Book.)

Yes, Chapter 27, wherein it says that Jose Cuervo is not only the original, since 1795, supreme, premium, ultimate white tequila. But, goes on to say that Jose Cuervo, as the ultimate, is also the ultimate mixer.
