DOC HOLLIDAY

DR. JOHN HENRY HOLLIDAY PRACTICED DENTISTRY IN DALLAS, DODGE CITY, AND TOMBSTONE, BUT GAMBLING WAS HIS PRIMARY INTEREST. DOC IS BEST REMEMBERED FOR WALKING INTO THE OK CORRAL WITH THE EARPS TO SHOOT IT OUT WITH THE McLAURYS AND CLANTONS IN 1881, THE MOST FAMOUS FIGHT OF THE WEST. HOLLIDAY WEIGHED ONLY 130 POUNDS, AND DID NOT APPEAR TO BE A FEARLESS GUNFIGHTER. HIS DISREGARD FOR DANGER CAME FROM HIS WISH TO BE KILLED SINCE HE WAS DYING OF CONSUMPTION. International week held at MSC

Texas A&M University students will get a chance to see, hear, taste and experience life in 75 countries this week in a cultural bonanza sponsored by the International Students Association.

Anthony Gibson, vice president of the association, said International Week is designed for interaction among all students at A&M. By having a variety of activities that are open to everyone, students become aware of the association's existence he said. Students get a chance to see what we have to offer culturally and to understand and appreciate it more, he said.

At 8 tonight, a music and dance show will personify the folklore of the different countries. Admission is 50 cents.

Human rights violations will be the subject of Wednesday's display in the MSC. The purpose is to create an awareness of the human rights violations that occur in various countries of the world. Gibson said he felt this was a very timely issue. The display will cover obscure issues that receive little news media coverage.

The evening will end with an indoor soccer game beginning at 8. Gibson said this should be a real novelty as it is not played anywhere in the U.S. The exhibition game will be played at G. Rollie White Coliseum by three teams consisting of players from six countries.

A folklore mini-show will be held Thursday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the MSC Lounge. It will consist of contemporary international music and songs that will be presented by several student groups in their native tongue. The highlight of the day will be a food fair.

It is the first of its kind for International Week. This is a come-and-go affair in room 228-231 of the MSC that will feature 20 dishes from cultures all over the world. The students are preparing all the dishes themselves.

Friday will end the week-long affair with an all night celebration. Live dance performances by several students will be featured as well as disco music and all the beer you can drink at the University quonset hut.

Certificates of Appreciation will be awarded by the association to individuals and student associations who worked in the programs for the week.

Gibson said he hopes many will participate as "we are not a foreign student organization, but international students which include Americans."

'Rocky' wins best picture award

United Press International HOLLYWOOD — "Rocky," the late Peter Finch and Faye Dunaway were the three big Oscar winners at the 49th annual Academy Awards last night, with Finch becoming the first performer to win a posthumous Academy Award.

Finch's performance as the crazed news anchorman of "Network" won the award for best actor and his costar, Faye Dunaway, was voted best actress for her portrayal of a ruthless television executive who ruins the lives of her associates.

"Network" and "Rocky" each captured three of the most glamorous awards, although "All the President's Men" led all entries with four Oscars.

In addition to the two top acting awards, although "All the President's Men" led all entries with four Oscars.

In addition to the two top acting awards, "Network" won the best original screenplay Oscar for author Paddy Chayefsky, and "Rocky," the saga of an underdog club boxer who fights for the heavyweight championship, also took the best direction Oscar for John Avildsen, along with the best editing honors.

Jason Robards won the best supporting actor award for his portrayal of Ben Bradlee, the tough editor of the Washington Post, in "All the President's Men."

Best supporting actress was Beatrice Straight, William Holden's spurned wife in "Network."

Finch's Jamaican widow, Eletha, was called to the stage by Chayefsky to accept the award for her late husband.

"I wish he were here tonight," Mrs. Finch said, weeping. "Since he isn't here, I'll always cherish this for him."

Barbra Streisand sang her own composition "Evergreen," returning a few minutes later to collect the Oscar for best original song it earned her and composer Paul Williams.

Voted the best foreign film was "Black and White in Color," by the Societe Ivoirienne V.C. Cinema of Africa's Ivory Coast.

A high point of the 2 hour 50 minute ceremony from the Los Angeles Music Center was the surprise appearance of heavyweight champ Muhammad Ali, who interrupted best actor nominee Sylvester Stallone of "Rocky," crying "you stole my script, you stole my script."

Stallone was nominated for writing "Rocky," which featured a flamboyant heavyweight champ who reminded many viewers of Ali. The actor and the champ sparred briefly, giving the audience a rare opportunity to laugh.

The lengthy show was hosted by Warren Beatty, Ellen Burstyn, Jane Fonda and Richard Pryor.

The Oscars were the first for both Dunaway and Finch.

William Goldman's script for "All the President's Men" was voted best screenplay adapted from another medium.

Reagan Brown vows action

United Press International AUSTIN — Reagan V. Brown's term as state agriculture commissioner was just a few minutes old and already he indicated he was going to work on the state's farm problems.

Brown took the oath of office yesterday, and shortly after the ceremony announced he and leaders of 50 farm commodity groups would meet immediately with Gov. Dolph Briscoe "to talk about accelerating agriculture in this great state."

Brown, 55, succeeded former commissioner John C. White, who resigned from the post to assume the position of deputy secretary of agriculture in the Carter administration.

"I promise you I'll never let you down on purpose, I'll give you 100 per cent effort," Brown said after the ceremony.

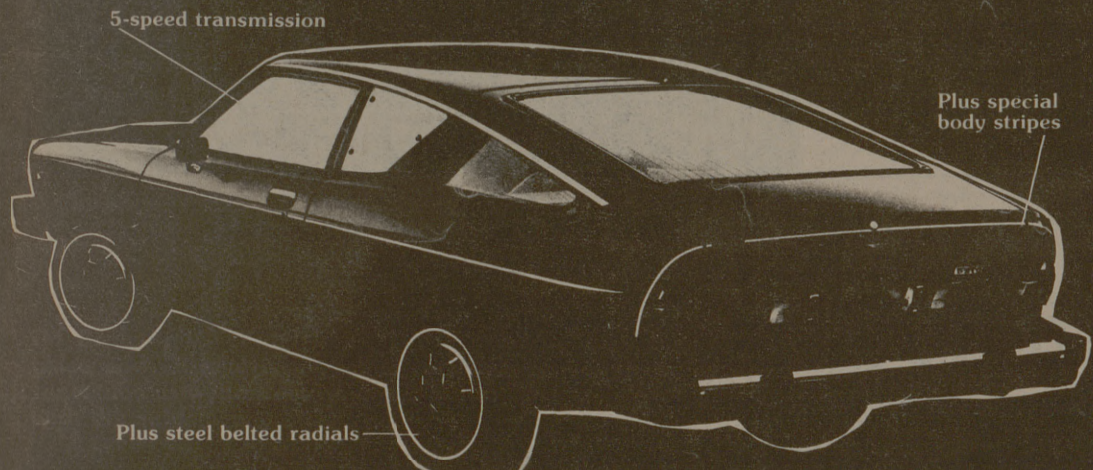

After taking the oath of office, Brown recognized some of his friends who were in the reception room, introduced his wife and family and expressed his appreciation to Briscoe for naming him to the office.

Brown has been a special assistant to Briscoe for the past three years. He is a rural sociologist and has been on leave from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service where he was head of a rural community development program.

When appointed to the position last week, Brown announced he would be a candidate for election to a full term in 1976. White held the agriculture commissioner job for more than 26 years before resigning to join the Carter administration.

Briscoe presented Brown a certificate of his appointment and told him, "I know from the experience I have had with you through the years you will make one of the greatest agriculture commissioners in the history of the Lone Star State."

Wildebeasts Devour F-1 to Capture All-U Flickerball Honors

The Wildebeasts, under the coaching of Jim Stroupe, won a high scoring Flickerball game with F-1 last week to take the All-University Championship in this sport. The Wildebeasts wound up their perfect 11-0 season with an outstanding performance in a hard-fought game.

In the first half of play, David Bartlett and Scott Stroud were the leading Wildebeast scorers with 3 points each, with Brad Stroud scoring 1 point for a 7-4 lead at half-time. Jerry Weathersby had scored 3 points while Quentin Schafer made 1 for the F-1 team. This was, however, a relatively close score, as one goal through the scoring board would have tied it for F-1.

In the second half of action, Brad Stroud and his brother Scott came on strong, scoring 6 points each and boosting their team to a final 19-9 win over F-1. Second half points for F-1 were made by Charles Greco and Jerry Weathersby, with 4 and 1 points, respectively. In an after game interview, Wildebeasts coach and captain Jim Stroup said that the season was so successful not only because of the high scoring offensive players, including Scott and Brad Stroud, Tim Propes, and David Bartlett, but also because of the efforts of the defensive team, which was comprised of Mike Cates, Darrell Sohr, and Harold Edwards.

In Class B finals, K-1, led by Kent Van Riper ripped the Wam Slams, 19-16 to take the title, while in the Co-Rec/Women Division, Class A, Sausolito II edged Infinity, 6-5 to take the Championship.

In the Men's Dorm Division, Utay II pounded Aston, 16-5 with Matt Anderson scoring a total of 10 points for Utay. In an overtime period of a very exciting game, Sq. 12, led by Nathan Hines, beat B-1 7-6 to win the Fish title.

Finally, in the Corps Division, F-1, led by Kenneth Jordan, defeated Sq. 6 with some able assistance from J. Shoemaker and R. Goertz, with 4 points each, and from Kenneth Jordan who scored 3 points. Congratulations to all winners and thanks to all of the players who helped to make this the best flickerball season yet.
