

Senior yell leader candidates stress spirit

compus as the whole and complete 12th Man.
How would you unify the increasingly diverse student body at Texas A&M?

Be more understanding to everyone and really show them no matter who they are — non-reg or cadet in the Corps—the yell leaders represent everyone on this campus. Also, the yell leaders should talk and meet everyone, not just certain elite people or groups.

MACMANUS
Tim Macmanus, 20, Junior, Ag Economics major from Combes, Texas.

What are your qualifications for this office?
One year's experience as a junior yell leader, which is essential for two of the senior yell leaders to have.

What do you consider to be your role in student affairs?
To keep students informed on traditions of A&M and current sporting events that are going on. A yell leader is an ambassador for the University when he travels with the different teams and must do his best to portray a good image of the school.

Should yell leaders serve as spokesmen for student athletes?
Yes. The yell leaders have a better chance to get to know the athletes and should relate the athletes' problems to the student body.

How would you unify the increasingly diverse student body at Texas A&M?

The only way is through communication. This is a problem because two-thirds of the student body lives off-campus. The school paper, yell practices and athletic functions could and should be used to unify the student body.

MAXWELL

Fred Maxwell, 21, Junior, Building Construction major.

What are your qualifications for this office?

I am interested in conserving the fine tradition of spirit at Texas A&M University in an ever increasing diversified student body. I believe that all students regardless of background, can share in this spirit and beautiful traditions of this university, and I can more than adequately represent them.

What do you consider to be your role in student affairs?

I will ever strive to be a fair and impartial spokesman of all students

Fred Maxwell

at all times. I am confident that I can best serve the interests of this institution by listening to any student that has a deep concern and wishes to express an opinion about Texas A&M University.

Should yell leaders serve as spokesmen for student athletes?

Athletes are students too, and a yell leader gives them equal representation with the rest of the student body.

How would you unify the increasingly diverse student body at Texas A&M?

Unification of such a large student population can be easily achieved by maintaining high visibility and an open mind to students of varying opinions and outlooks on life in this campus. I represent an alternative voice—A CIVILIAN VOICE—that I feel better represents today's campus, keeping ever before me the century-old traditions of this fine university.

NEELEY

Warren Neeley, 21, Junior, Management major from Gatesville, Texas.

What are your qualifications for this office?

Some of the qualifications for yell leader should be: 1) Love A&M for the school it is and its traditions, 2) A deep desire to be a good yell leader, 3) Be sports-oriented, 4) A leader of other students, 5) A hard worker, 6) Involved in activities other than yell leader so as to be in touch with other students and their ideas, and 7) Live to the standards of what an Aggie should be.

I know that I fit these characteristics of a yell leader.

What do you consider to be your role in student affairs?

I view student affairs as activities that I am involved in outside of academic pursuits. My involvement in campus activities include Residence Council Executive Committee, Bonfire and Yell Leader Committee, the Aggie Club, SCONA, and president of Moses Hall.

Should yell leaders serve as spokesmen for student athletes?

I feel that student athletes are as able to express themselves as I am, and I don't see the need for yell leaders to be student athlete spokesmen. However, the yell leaders should be in close contact with athletes.

How would you unify the increasingly diverse student body at Texas A&M?

I would show no partiality to any organization or group of students. The yell leader should be a leader of Aggies with no bias on their preferences. I would also share my fire and enthusiasm for Texas A&M and emphasize the common bond of pride that all true Aggies must have.

REAGAN

Joe Reagan, 21, Junior, Biomedcal Science major from S Texas.

What are your qualifications for this office?

Qualifications: I was a junior yell leader and president of Fellowship of Christian Aggies. I'm a member of the Rose teers, Junior Class Council and Conditions Council, Aggie Club and Rugby Team.

Warren Neeley

Being elected last year, I was very involved with student affairs, not only with my yell leading, but also with what makes this university "tick."

What do you consider to be your role in student affairs?

As a yell leader, one's duties are diverse. Not only does the yell leader bolster and foster that Aggie and I of Aggie spirit, but it also goes way beyond being an ambassador in the school and a sort of liaison to the student body. A yell leader, as I have title indicates, is a leader and is responsible for many things.

Should yell leaders serve as spokesmen for student athletes?

In some ways I think that Aggie spokesmen should serve as spokesmen for student athletes. These spokesmen put their pants on just like we do. They have a voice of their own. But on behalf of the different athletic teams, the yell leaders should convey the team's feelings to the whole to the students whether to increase team spirit or on the other issue.

How would you unify the increasingly diverse student body at Texas A&M?

The University is growing so fast I'm sure it will not stop. The question is how to unify it. The diversity of many things which can be done is not doing it is the main thing.

One of the many things which can be done is that all students must all pull together to become a unified student body. I know there is animosity between students and members of the school. I'm a member of the school, but that's secondary. First, I'm an Aggie, just as everyone else is.

I know there is competition between the dorms for spirit and participation in many sports. It's great. It should continue, but off-campus students also need to be involved more. Awareness is crucial.

The question has come up of involvement of women. The different female dorms could create a committee to get their dorms involved. This could encompass things as a rally, sign-making, etc. Also think the students should be made more aware of the things as men's and women's swimming, golfing, tennis, water polo, etc.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

SENIOR RING ORDERING PROCEDURE

OFFICE OF THE DEAN OF ADMISSIONS AND RECORDS

To be eligible to order the Texas A&M ring, an undergraduate student must have at least one year in residence, credit for at least ninety-two (92) semester hours and be in good standing with the University. A year in residence may consist of the Fall and Spring semesters or one of the above and a full summer session (both the first and second terms). The hours passed at the preliminary grade report period on March 23rd may be used in satisfying this ninety-two hour requirement. Students qualifying under this regulation should leave their names with the ring clerk, Room Seven, Richard Coke Building. This should be done prior to March 23rd in order for all records to be checked to determine ring eligibility. (Any student having completed ninety-two (92) hours at the end of the Fall '76 semester may order at any time. There is never a dead-line once the hours have been completed, with the exception of a monthly mailing date.) Graduate students are eligible to order with proof (receipt) that they have filed for graduation. Orders for mid-semester will be taken by the ring clerk starting March 23, 1977, and will continue until April 26, 1977. Students who do not place their order during this period may order after final grades are posted. All rings must be paid for in full when the order is placed. Please bring mid-semester grade reports along when ready to order. Anyone having failed to leave their names in advance and fail to bring grade report will be asked to return later to allow time for records to be checked. The rings should arrive at the Registrar's Office on June 28, 1977. All rings ordered, regardless of whether on March 23rd or April 26th will arrive at the same time. The ring clerk is on duty from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. of each week, Monday through Friday. However, in order for records to be checked, orders must be placed prior to 11:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. We hope this information will be helpful and extend our congratulations.

Edwin H. Cooper, Dean Admissions and Records
Carolyn Wells, Ring Clerk
