Junior yell leader. . . 12th man important to spirit team

HANCOCK

Jeff Hancock, 20, Sophomore, Business Management major from San Antonio, Texas.

What are your qualifications for this office?
I am running for yell leader because there is no other way for the class Council at A&M to represent A&M Aggie Club than by being an "ambassador in

What do you consider to be your role in student affairs?
I consider myself to be a symbol of Aggie spirit on and away from the A&M campus. I will need to develop, organize, and "control" Aggie spirit, while at the same time being a liaison between Aggie traditions and the current diversified student body.

Should yell leaders serve as spokesmen for student athletes?
Heck no, student athletes should be spokesmen for student athletes.

How would you unify the increas- ily diverse student body at Texas A&M?
First of all unity starts with believing in a common cause. Our common cause is the friendliness and respect we have for Texas A&M University. Our yell leaders can be that symbol only if they are supported by the student body as a whole. I don't want to try to be a yell leader for the non-regs or any other particular group, but I would like the opportunity to be an "Aggie" yell leader.

The challenge.
Your challenge is to discover words of four letters in this pentagon. Discover them by following the straight lines to and from the letters, forming words as you go. You may not use two of the same letters in any one word. If you can make 30 words or more, you've met the challenge.

When there's a challenge, quality makes the difference.
We hope you have some fun with the challenge. There's another challenge we'd like to offer you, too. The Pabst challenge:
We welcome the chance to prove the quality of our beer. We challenge you to taste and compare Pabst Blue Ribbon to any other premium beer. You'll like Pabst better. Blue Ribbon quality means the best tasting beer you can get. Since 1844 it always has.
PABST. Since 1844. The quality has always come through.
