Bellard respects Royal

By STEVE MARTAINDALE
Texas A&M University football coach and Athletic Director Emory Bellard, in an Associated Press story today, was said to have "spoken strongly... about former boss Darrell Royal."

Bellard said last night that he had the deepest respect for Royal, the former head football coach at the University of Texas. "At the time did I ever try to take a shot at Coach Royal," Bellard said.

The AP said Bellard's statements were made to Texas Football Magazine.

The AP quoted Bellard as saying, "The only problem Darrell has is his inability to accept the integrity of other people. Somewhere along the line he got an idea that he was the only person in the world that's honest and forthright and just."

But Bellard said yesterday that his statements were not anything personal.

He said there is "a difference of opinion between me and Coach Royal," on recruiting violations.

"I don't believe that all colleges are going out of their way to break the rules," Bellard said. "Rules are broken, but mostly through technicalities and because the rules are so complex, Bellard said."

"I think that's true of most all universities. There are some schools that contradict that, but they are isolated cases."

When Bellard worked for Royal at Texas, they put together the wishbone-T offense before Bellard came to Texas A&M five years ago. Royal retired from coaching last fall after 20 years at UT.

Cain, Pfaff to be inducted into Aggie Hall of Honor

Two Texas A&M graduates, who made important contributions to the A&M athletic program, have been chosen as the first honorees to be inducted into the new Texas A&M Hall of Honor.

The selection of Wofford Cain of the Class of 1913, and Bert Pfaff Tyler, Class of 1925, was announced by the Texas A&M Lettermen's Association President J.E. "Rocky" Roberts.

The Hall of Honor was established to recognize outstanding contributions by non-lettermen," Roberts said.

Cain made large contributions to the building of an Olympic-size swimming pool and a new athletic dormitory at A&M. Both facilities bear Cain's name.

Pfaff was instrumental in raising the funds necessary to complete payments on Kyle Field football stadium.

Induction ceremonies for Cain and Pfaff will be held at halftime of the Maroon-White football game April 23 at Kyle Field.

The plaque that will be presented to Cain and Pfaff will read:

"In grateful recognition and deep appreciation of your loyalty, devotion, dedication, faithful service and lasting contributions to Texas A&M University Department of Athletics."

No more than two men each year will be selected for the Hall of Honor, Roberts said.

Induction ceremonies for Cain and Pfaff will be held at halftime of

When do you say Budweiser?

When I think about pizza. When my wallet says I can't afford pizza.

When the delivery guy leaves three large pizzas (with everything) at my door by mistake.

Actually, anytime's the right time to say Budweiser. And when you do, you've really said it all!
