California still leader Texas surpasses Florida in population growth rate

Texas is now the second fastest-growing state in the nation. After surpassing Florida in population, Texas now adds more people than any state except California. "Latest population estimates from the U.S. Bureau of the Census indicate that between July 1, 1975, and July 1, 1976, Texas' population grew by 250,000," said Dr. R. L. Skrabanek, an A&M professor and demographer with the Texas Real Estate Research Center. "During the same period, California increased by 322,000 and Florida by 144,000."

1960's, the number increased to about 21,000. The average annual increase was 58,000 from 1950 and 112,000 per year from 1973 to 76. Skrabanek attributed the state's increased population growth to a favorable unemployment rate, good and energy resources. "Texas' image as a place to live has become more favorable in recent years," he said. "Nation taken in the 1950's and 1960's showed Texas did very high with Americans in others states as a live place to live."

Product liability crisis causes concern for insurance brokers

United Press International SAN FRANCISCO — "Let the buyer beware" has been retired as a cliché of the marketplace in favor of "Let the seller beware." "Only a few years ago it was tough luck if your lawnmower cut off your toe accidentally. Now you can sue the lawnmower manufacturer, the hardware store where you bought it, and the repairman who fixed it. Chances are their insurance representatives will get together and offer you a good out-of-court settlement. This is the "product liability" crisis which has the insurance industry more stirred up than medical malpractice did a couple of years ago. Thomas J. Ryan, senior vice president of Marsh & McLennan, the nation's largest insurance broker, believes there's no real problem — just an adjustment to make. Up until two or three years ago it was generally assumed you could not collect damages from a manufacturer unless you could prove that he was somehow at fault. Now the public and courts seem to believe that "when anything happens to anybody, somebody is going to pay," Ryan said in an interview with UPI. "In the evolving and constantly changing attitudes of the American people — reflected in many phases of the national life — one of the underlying feelings which seems to be emerging is that when something happens to an individual and he cannot cope with it, somebody should cope with it — companies, the government, society." Ryan says the insurance industry is the best vehicle for carrying out this concept of "negligence" which holds
