

ZALES TIMELY GIFTS

Now that he's going out into the world, help him get there on time. Give him one of our exclusive Baylors.

- a. Pocket watch in assorted scenes, $49.95
- b. Automatic day/date, two-tone, $110; in yellow, $125
- c. Automatic day/date, white, $85; yellow, $110; two-tone, $95

All have 17 jewels.

Open a Zales account or use one of five national credit plans

Zales Revolving Charge • Zales Custom Charge
BankAmericard • Master Charge • American Express
Diners Club • Carte Blanche • Layaway

Mon.-Fri.
10 to 8:30
Sat.
10 to 6

ZALES
The Diamond Store

211 University Dr.
Dallas, Texas 75201
822-3731

Administrators present

Organized streak-in doesn't come off

Dr. Koldus wore a black tuxedo. Some wore leisure suits, others, shirts with neckties. Some carried cameras and strobe flash units. They assembled in front of the Academic Building about ten o'clock last night, but they didn't get what they expected.

Signs seen on campus hinted at an organized streaking to be held last night. And curious students, concerned administrators and campus police were ready.

They sat on benches, stood in groups and lingered in front of trees — hoping to catch a glance or catch a streaker.

Dr. John J. Koldus, vice president of student services, had just returned from a formal dinner sponsored by Air Force ROTC. He waited, along with Charles Powell, director of student affairs, and Ron Blatchley and Toby Rives, associate directors.

Did the administrators come to watch the streaking? "No," said Koldus. "To catch them — to stop them and to put them in the podunk."

Administrators were concerned because of an incident at Sam Houston State University, where a streaker filed suit against the school after being expelled for the offense, said Jerry Mainord, area coordinator for the Corps area.

The court ruled in favor of the university, he added. "Streaking is no longer 'good bull' on this (A&M's) campus," he said.

Those who attended the non-event began to leave shortly before 11. "Let's just say 'farmers fight and call it a night,'" Blatchley said.

Battalion photo by Ernie G.

Places second

Tommy Scribner, manager of the A&M Horse Center, rode "Bunk House Ace" to classic cutting horse form in the Southwest Regional Intercollegiate Horse Show April 24. Scribner placed second in the competition.

sit pretty for summer

Shala's Shoes

707 Texas
846-1148

baggy masters

bort carleton

Final Review to be Saturday last event for 1977 members

Saturday's Final Review marks the last time class of 1977 members appear as Corps cadets at Texas A&M.

Final Review will be on the Memorial Student Center drill

Humane Society animals' week

In honor of Be Kind to Animals Week, the Humane Society of Brazos County is sponsoring a series of activities this week at Manor East Mall.

Information on proper pet care, the pet population problem, summer hazards for pets and special humane education materials will be available.

Entries in an HSBC-sponsored art contest will be displayed. This contest was open to all Bryan-College Station students in the first through fourth grades.

On Saturday winners of the art contest will be announced at 3 p.m. Dog obedience demonstrations will be given at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

field, with Kyle Field serving as backup location. The review begins at 3:30 p.m.

President Jack K. Williams and the heads of A&M's military departments will be on the reviewing stand. The event will be the last Army Col. Thomas R. Parsons, Commandant, and Air Force Col. Robert Elkins, professor of aerospace studies.

U. S. Marine Corps Col. M. E. Ivins, professor of naval science, will also be in the reviewing line.

Final Review, a modified version of the standard military review, will include two appearances of the cadets. On the first circuit, 1977 commanders headed by Cadet Capt. Robert Harvey of Houston will be charge. The second appearance will be led by Mike Gentry Huntsville, incoming Corps commander.

New commanders at corps brigade, wing and regimental battalion-group and company squadron levels take their positions in twin rounds, while cadets change the class insignias on their uniforms.

THE RECORD COLLECTION

NOW ONLY $4.44

THE RECORD COLLECTION

211 UNIVERSITY DR.
846-3901
Open Mon.-Sat. 10-7

