New Mexico firefighters gain ground on forest blaze

United Press International
LOS ALAMOS, N.M. — One thousand weary firefighters from three states gained ground Sunday in their four-day-old fight against one of the worst forest fires in New Mexico recently.

By sundown yesterday, the fire had consumed more than 10,000 acres of timber and had burned to within three miles of Los Alamos — a scientific headquarters perched on a pinetree-covered mesa more than 7,000 feet above sea level.

Officials said firefighters succeeded in laying a fire line around the northern edge of the blaze and the city — home of the atomic bomb and much of the country's nuclear research — was not in danger.

"We are making headway," said deputy fire boss Ed Richardson. "If we can keep it up, and have enough forces to bear, we can get the upper hand on it."

The fire, swept along by 15-25 mile per hour winds, raced through dry brush and timber. It was concentrated in a canyon south of the city and spilled onto surrounding mesas where the Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) maintains numerous concrete-reinforced bunkers housing various types of non-nuclear explosives.

An ERDA spokesman Ken Brazziel said there was no danger the flames would detonate the explosives buried within the igloo-type structures.

Truckers sold 'pep' pills containing caffeine only

United Press International
OKLAHOMA CITY — Someone is making a fat profit on the sale of high-priced "pep" pills to truckers, but apparently the only crime involved is peddling without a license, police said Sunday.

Officers said the pills and capsules contain no stimulant except caffeine, and the peddlers are careful not to call them amphetamines.

Detective Bob Rowell, who posed as a trucker and bought some of the caffeine capsules Saturday, said one of the sellers claimed a $4,000 per month profit. He said they bought the pills for $5 per hundred and sold them for $45 per hundred.

Rowell said he arrested two men on charges of peddling without a license and they posted bonds of $35, the amount of the fine for that offense.

"We are getting complaints from the truck stops about this group."

Apparently a lot of truckers are paying $45 for 100 pills and getting the same thing they could get for coffee," Rowell said.

"I guess you could call it a ripoff," he said.

Veterans should fill out short form

Since GI Bill checks are not prepaid, it is no longer necessary that veterans drawing educational benefits show their fee slips each semester, reports Texas A&M University veteran representative Paton Butler.

Butler added, however, that veterans attending Texas A&M must complete the GI Bill form for the fall and spring semesters. He said that the Veterans Administration liaison office advised of their status and conditions.

To accomplish this, a short form filled out in the summer for the coming fall and spring terms again in the spring for the summer sessions.

Many of the Texas A&M veterans have already completed the form for the fall and spring sessions, Butler, but those that should do so by the end of July or in early July.

The VA liaison office is located in Hart Hall.
