What to do on a lazy afternoon

Ted Hallaron (left), and Dave Carter thought of a different way to liven up their Friday afternoons. Hallaron, a marketing major and Carter, a petroleum chemistry major, can be seen on Fridays in any one of the various outfits they wear, such as these Arab fashions.

'Matchmaker' TEC

By JEAN HENKHAUS

A new method of matching people with jobs has been initiated by the Bryan-College Station Texas Employment Commission, Manager Charles Gillespie announced Tuesday.

The new method, titled Job Bank, is designed to give applicants a wider than ever choice of jobs.

Job seekers are given books that contain all job openings listed with the employment commission.

The books are categorized into various job areas and show the applicant the pay, hours and skill involved in each job.

After the applicant chooses a job, he is interviewed by a TEC employee and if he meets the job requirements, he is referred to the employer. Employer names and locations are not identified on the job sheets.

Job books are updated daily and the number of job openings listed varies from 100 to 200 on any given day, Gillespie said.

Previously, applicants told TEC interviewers what type of work they were interested in. The job selection was then made by the TEC personnel.

"The new Job Bank should be very effective here," Gillespie said. "The new method will be more efficient than previous methods because job seekers can see all the jobs available and then choose the one best suiting his skills and training."

Although the job locator can give applicants a wide variety of jobs to choose from, they must still meet education and skill requirements. "This is not a wholesale referral," Gillespie said.

The new method will not be a cost saving device, but the applicants would increase and Job Bank could service the area better.

The majority of jobs listed by TEC are for semi-skilled work. TEC services seven counties and about one fourth of the patrons come from surrounding counties so it lists jobs in these areas.

Anyone wishing to use the Job Bank to find employment or to list job openings should contact the Texas Employment Commission at 801 E. 29th St., Bryan. There is no charge to applicants or employers for this service.

Beside filling jobs for this district, TEC also has out of town job listings. Gillespie said that many students use this service before going home for the summer and even after graduation.

Blue Maguey cactus hearts ripe and ready for distilling at Tequila Cuervo's La Rojeña plant.

Since 1795 Cuervo Gold has been made in only one way. And in only one place.

In Tequila. Where the pampered Blue Maguey plant still flourishes amidst the rich, volcanic soil and perfect climate as it has since 1795.

Where over 182 years of tradition is still a way of life. This is what makes Cuervo Gold special. Versatile and adaptable. Neat, on the rocks, with a splash of soda, in a perfect Sunrise or Margarita, Cuervo Gold will bring you back to a time when quality ruled the world.

Cuervo. The Gold standard since 1795.
