

A word from Fayetteville

Hog QB anticipates clash

By DAVID BOGGAN
Battalion Staff

Friday, a chartered jet will leave Fayetteville, Ark., carrying the Arkansas Razorback football team to Houston. The next day the team will board a bus and venture to College Station where, for the first time in three years, they will enter Kyle Field. Here the 51st game between the Razorbacks and the Texas Aggies will take place.

One of the Razorbacks on the plane and on the bus and in Kyle Field will be starting quarterback Ron Calcagni.

"I've never been there (Kyle Field) but I hear they have great fan support and I hear they make a lot of noise," the junior quarterback said in a telephone interview Wednesday, but he added that his team will not be intimidated.

"We will have fans down there to support us," he said.

A popular Aggie slogan at last year's A&M-Arkansas contest in Little Rock was "Sweet Revenge," stemming from the Hogs' 31-6 upset of the Aggies in 1975. Calcagni says the revenge feelings will be reciprocated this year as the Aggies' 31-10 defeat of the Hogs last year started a four-game Arkansas losing streak.

"The Aggies played a heck of a game last year; their defense was terrific," Calcagni said, "but we're thinking win all the way this year."

"There is a lot riding on this game. There will be a winner and a loser. We just hope we're the winner."

Indeed, this is an important game. A possible conference championship, bowl bids and national ratings will be on the line as the two teams clash.

Calcagni said the Razorbacks' key to victory is evident.

"We must keep the ball and keep our defense off the field as much as possible," he said. "The wishbone offense will wear a defense down quick."

Not that Arkansas has a weak defense. In fact, they have the nation's leading scoring defense, yielding only 6.8 points per game. Calcagni said this gives the Arkansas offense a lift.

"The defense creates turnovers and gets us good field position," he said. "They're a tough bunch of guys. I sure wouldn't want to play against them."

If the Razorbacks fail to play in the Cotton Bowl this year, Calcagni would like to see them go to either the Orange Bowl or the Sugar Bowl. His reasoning is rational.

"I want to play somewhere where it's warm," he said.

Arkansas took a giant step backwards on the road to the Cotton Bowl when they were defeated by the Texas Longhorns 13-9 in October. Although the Hogs did not defeat the Longhorns, Calcagni said top-rated Texas is not unstoppable.

"Texas can be beat," the Arkansas quarterback said. "They're a one-man team," referring to Longhorn tailback Earl Campbell.

Lou Holtz will also enter Kyle Field for the first time as Arkansas' new head coach.

"Coach Holtz is great," Calcagni said. "He runs a wide open offense. He uses fantastic play selection. He's made it fun for me."

Calcagni, from Youngstown, Ohio, was recruited by Mike Pittsburgh and North Carolina (where Holtz was head coach at the time), but chose Arkansas because of the veer offense that former Arkansas head coach Frank Broyles used.

When he isn't playing football, Calcagni said he enjoys sleeping.

"Football is an all day thing wears you down," he explained, "and there's not much to do in Fayetteville, anyway."

George Woodard (No. 33) gained five yards against SMU before the Mustang defense swarmed in for the tackle. Woodard has been on a diet, and has lost more than 20 lbs.

AIR FORCE ROTC

The facts of the matter.

With something as important as your future being discussed, it's very urgent that you get and understand all the facts. Air Force ROTC can be an important part of your future, and we'd like to take this opportunity to outline some of the main facts of that matter and invite you to look further into the subject.

The U.S. Air Force needs highly qualified dedicated officers. Both men and women, and we need people in all kinds of educational disciplines. Air Force ROTC offers 4-year, 3-year and 2-year scholarships with $100 monthly tax-free allowance, and contrary to what some people think, there is no military obligation during the first two years of the Air Force ROTC.

Upon college graduation you'll receive a commission in the U.S. Air Force and the opportunity to compete for a challenging job with advanced educational opportunities.

Let's get together and discuss Air Force ROTC further. We'll give you all the facts and clear up the fictions. It could be one of the most important talks you've ever had with anyone.
