The second try followed a loose ruck. Robert Moorman saw Chuck Martin breaking through in the center. Moorman tossed a quick pitch-back and the Aggie fullback made no mistake, going over between the posts, after a 15-yard scamper. Alan Jeffrey's conversion was good and the Ags led 10-0.

Phil Cook scored his second try of the day just before half-time. Cook lofted a 45-yarder to Garry Uwen. He somehow managed to run under his own kick after one bounce near weekend for the annual Houston the 12-yard line and he scored un

The second half was evenly from near the touchline. The Aggies played. The Huns had the only score on an unconverted try.

Outstanding players for the Aggies were Mike Frenzel and Mark Anthony, who owned every lineout. Paul Rutledge and speedster Greg Laswell shone in the backline.

This was another strong outing for the improving Aggies who had beaten the Dallas Rugby Club the previous week 17-9. The Dallas Club was No. 1 in the State until suffering its first loss of the year to the Aggies in a grudge match.

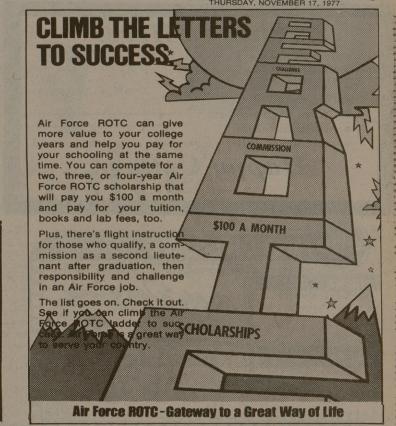

A&M travels to Houston this

This has been an especially rearding season for the Aggie Ruggers. Employing a nice blend of experience and youthful enthusiasm, the Rugby team has operated on character and desire. Last year's coach and perennial mentor Tony King, have each left Aggieland.

The secret of its success is that the Maroon squad consistently gives the Whites a hard game in scrimmages. As in the late 60s and early 70s, when A&M was 84-4 over a fouryear period, the same Aggie spirit mage at the Main Drill Field was typical of hard crisp quality rugby. The Ruggers work out daily from 5-6 p.m. on Mondays through Thursdays on the Main Drill Field.
