Reported $7.5 million deal settles Hunt's

United Press International
SHREVEPORT — The woman who said she was married to oil billionaire H.L. Hunt while he was married to another woman reportedly accepted $7.5 million to drop a suit challenging his will.

Franya Tye Lee, 73, prepared to return to her Atlanta home Tuesday and refused to discuss the amount of money she accepted from Hunt's will executors to end a week-long jury trial.

In the suit, Mrs. Lee sought half of what Hunt earned during their nine-year marriage and the money earned from management of the original sum. The marriage broke up in 1934 when Mrs. Lee said she learned her husband had another family living in Arkansas.

But a newspaper Tuesday quoted unnamed sources who said Lee accepted $7.5 million to drop the lawsuit.

During the week-end Shreveport Times said Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Lee's son offered Mrs. Lee to settle the suit. Both family and Mrs. Lee's son said the settlement was insufficient.

Lawyers were about to begin a second week of testimony when Judge Tom Staggs ended the settlement.

Mrs. Lee and Mr. Hunt, a son by Hunt's second marriage, on behalf of estate H.L. Hunt, have a full and amicable settlement. Issues have been resolved to the parties' satisfaction.
