Candidate disapproves Consol voting process

A Texas attorney general candidate expressed his disapproval of a voting procedure used by the A&M Consolidated School Board in electing Elliott Bray as vice president of the board.
The candidate, Price Daniel Jr., addressed students at the Memorial Student Center cafeteria Friday afternoon.
Local media had questioned the legality of the Bryan vote taken last week under terms of the Open Meetings Act. The Board members cast their ballots in secret. The Open Meetings Act does not state whether a secret vote is permitted or if all votes should be made by voice.

Daniel questioned the legality of a secret vote.
"But a secret vote is certainly in violation of the spirit of the Open Meetings Act," Daniel said.
Daniel was Texas House speaker and advocated the Open Meetings Act when it was brought into legislation in 1973.

Soldier's Medal given for heroism

Major Marc B. Powe, class of '61, was awarded the Soldier's Medal recently. Powe distinguished himself by heroism involving personal danger and voluntary risk of life at the United States Embassy building in Moscow, USSR.

During a multimillion dollar fire that enveloped the upper floors of the Embassy, Major Powe directed efforts of ensuring the security and protection of extremely sensitive classified areas. With fire above and below, Major Powe for over three hours successfully prohibited access of foreign personnel into the classified areas. This prevented compromise of the area and possible detriment to the United States Government. The exemplary courage, dedication, and heroism displayed by Major Powe, reflects great credit upon him and the United States Army, the award citation said.

Texas Engineers present awards

Four senior safety engineering students at Texas A&M University have received scholarships from several Texas chapters of American Society of Safety Engineers.

They are Karen Ellerson, Stan Zwinggi, both of San Antonio, Mark Riddle of Fort Worth and Tad Schell of Houston.
The scholarships totaled $2,000 said Dr. Richard Kline, industrial engineering professor.
The awards, intended for juniors and seniors, are given on basis of scholastics, need, and competitive exam.

Student promoted to Marine captain

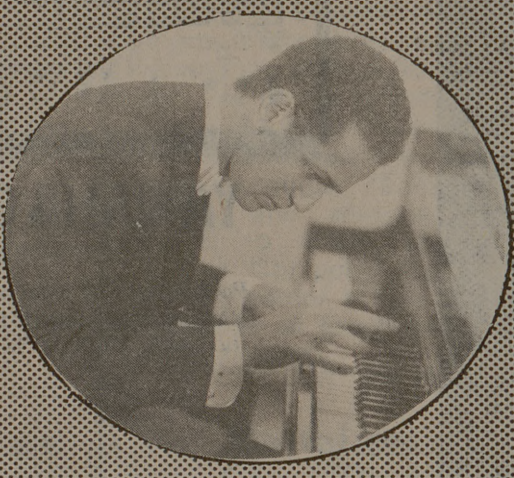

Texas A&M student Keith Stephens of San Antonio has been promoted to captain in the Marine Corps.
Capt. Stephens is completing studies here toward an advanced science degree. The promotion ceremony and pinning of rank was conducted by Col. Ivins, professor of naval science.
An A&M student during 1967-70, Capt. Stephens joined the Marine Corps in 1970 and commissioned through Enlisted Commissioning program in 1973.
