County votes $10,000 for Millican land fill

By ANDREA VALLS

A $10,000 appropriation for the maintenance of the Millican land fill was passed Monday at the County Commissioners meeting.

Commissioner Bill Cooley, Precinct 1, requested the budget change on grounds that the land fill at Wellborn was closed last year and residents need a facility to dispose of solid waste. Cooley said the County Health Department is more severe when inspecting the land fill and an appropriation was needed to maintain health standards. The $10,000 was appropriated from the county's general fund.

A Brazos County citizen, Margaret VanBavel requested that the county appropriate money for the maintenance of Boonville Cemetery. She also requested restriction of burial to people who are descendants of those already buried there because the cemetery is a historical site.

Judge William Vance said that the county cannot restrict burial to only descendants and still appropriate funds for the maintenance of the cemetery. He advised further discussion on the matter.

In other action, commissioners heard a presentation of a National Flood Insurance program. The program would not include the incorporated areas of Brazos County, Bryan and College Station, because the cities already have city flood programs. A flood plane map was distributed to the commissioners and will be reviewed before further action is taken. A county court order will be needed before the insurance program can be established for Brazos County.

Commissioners also approved the application to the Criminal Justice Division for the second-year funding of the Brindge House, a juvenile detention center. Last year Brazos County appropriated $14,500 at the initiation of the detention center program. This year, Brazos County will appropriate $6,989 for funding of Brindge House while the state will appropriate $39,000.

In other business, approval of payment of fire calls for January, 1978 was passed. Payment was made from the Community Development Fund to Bryan Construction Co. for work completed on Phase I of the County Park.

Dorm residents promised end to water interruptions

By ANDY WILLIAMS

Battalion Staff
Dormitory residents at Texas A&M University can now expect uninterrupted water service for the rest of spring semester, said Edward Kozlowski, associate director of maintenance. "If we cut it off any more, it's because of some emergency," Kozlowski said. Recent connections of water lines to the library addition have made some shut-offs necessary, he said. These usually lasted four or five hours. Kozlowski had no record of the number of water shut-downs. "I don't see any reason we would want to keep such a thing," he said. In an informal phone survey of resident advisors conducted Monday, answers to the water shut-down question varied from none to three times.

Kozlowski said electrical lines will be tied to the library addition in March. "We're going to try to do this during the spring break," he said. This operation will not affect the dorms, he added. "After school is out, we'll probably have to make one more big connection," said Kozlowski. This should be finished between the end of the spring semester and the start of the summer session, he said.
