Women's workshop set

Texas A&M University, with support from the National Science Foundation, is sponsoring a science career workshop for freshmen and sophomore women Feb. 28-March 1.

Karen Switzer, Texas A&M's student development coordinator, said candid information about career opportunities will be provided at the workshop by prominent women scientists in the fields of biochemistry, genetics, educational psychology, planetary sciences, engineering, agricultural sciences, geosciences and medical sciences.

More than 200 women students from throughout Texas are expected for the two-day session.

Switzer said applications are still being accepted from freshmen and sophomore women at Texas A&M University. Registration is free. Interested persons should contact Switzer at 845-1741 or go by Student Affairs office, 108 W. Building.

Pix contest announce

Salon '78, a contest for collegiate photographers, has been announced by the Memorial Student Center Camera Committee at Texas A&M University.

The contest is open to student photographers of universities and colleges across Texas. Winners last year included entries from Odessa College, East Texas State and Tarrant County College.

The entry deadline is March 1 and judging will begin March 2. Awards will include Best of Show plaques and a $50 prize in both black-and-white, first, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in 11 categories.

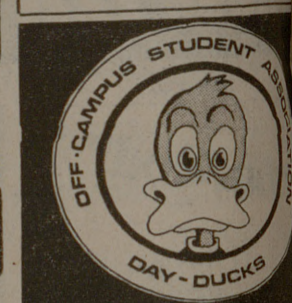

Entries will be accepted in black and white and color. Categories include formal portrait, photojournalism, sports, still life, human interest, social, architecture, landscape and experimental.

Winning prints will be exhibited March 5-25 at Texas A&M. Committee Chairman M. Wilkins said preliminary judging the morning of March 4 will be to visitors. Three professional photographers will judge the contest which has been an annual event at Texas A&M for more than 20 years. Information and entry forms are available from the Camera Committee, Memorial Student Center Station, Texas 77843 or by phone 713-845-1515.
